The majority required by the Constitution having voted in in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 28, entitled:

An act relating to limited dividend reconstruction corporations defining and providing for the formation of such corporations for the purpose of reconstructing slum areas extending to such corporations certain existing laws relating generally to business corporations providing for the supervision and regulation of the activities of such corporations by the State Board of Housing in the Department of Property and Supplies providing for the protection of such corporations and the parties dealing with them prescribing defining and limiting the powers and duties of such corporations conferring upon such coroprations and limiting their use of the power of eminent domain exempting such corporations from the payment of the capital stock tax conferring certain powers on municipalities making certain securities of such corporations legal investments for funds in the hands of municipal officers insurance companies and associations savings banks and savings institutions

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like the sponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kane, to explain to the House just what this bill means.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny perplain the purpose of House Bill No. 28, Printer's No. 83?

Mr. JOHN J. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, House Bill No. 28 is one of the three bills introduced and known as "housing bills" or bills for the purpose of eliminating slums in the large cities.

This bill sets up a limited development reconstruction corporation with the right of eminent domain, providing options on properties in areas where the Housing Corporations desire to build are received from fifty percent of the properties involved. It also provides that these corporations shall have the authority to borrow money from the Federal Government for the purpose of these reconstruction projects or the rebuilding of the slum districts.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kane.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. J. J. KANE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, may I ask what is the meaning of the phrase in the title "making certain securities of such corporations legal investments for funds in the hands of municipal officers, insurance companies and associations, savings banks and savings institutions."

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, as I understand Bill No. 26, the Housing Board, as set up, has authority and control over these projects and gives to them authority for the handling of the funds and the investing and control of the financial investments in the housing projects.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman from Allegheny to mean, then, that after House Bill No. 26 is passed and you form a benevolent corporation, which does not intend to make money, and these housing corporations will rent these houses at a low figure, that then, by this act, House Bill No. 28, it will make the securities of those corporations proper investments for savings banks, insurance companies, savings funds and municipal funds?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I have no interest in this bill but I have an interest in this proposition that the funds of savings banks, insurance companies and municipalities should be kept in the very best shape. They are not any too well kept with all of the safeguards that the Commonwealth has put upon them.

I have no objection to the bill excepting the feature that allows the savings banks and insurance companies to buy these no-good securities of these houses that are built for philanthropic purposes, for the purpose of giving the public housing; as I say I have no objection to that, but when you come to say that insurance companies and municipalities shall be allowed to invest the money of the people that took that insurance policy, the widows, orphans and so forth, who have their money in savings institutions, I say that the bill is a mighty bad bill and should be voted down.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, these bills were taken to the Attorney General's office and amendments were made to them to comply with the corporation acts as amended in the General Session this year, and I believe that every precaution has been taken to safeguard the investment of any individual, bank or building and loan association that may be invested in these corporations.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in direct reply to the question asked by the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson, I would ask the membere to refer to the bill on page 13, beginning at line 6, where it reads: "First lien bonds of such corporation when secured by mortgage not exceeding two-thirds of the estimated cost prior to the completion of the project or two-thirds of the appraised value of actual cost which ever shall be less after such completion as certified by the Board are hereby declared securities in which all public officers and bodies of the municipal subdivisions of the Commonwealth, all insurance companies and associations, all banks, bank and trust companies and savings banks in the Commonwealth may legally invest funds." I take it, and I think if the members of the House will consider it for a moment, that these bonds and securities secured by mortgages not exceeding two-thirds of the value of the property as fixed by the State Housing Board are a whole lot safer than a lot of first mortgages which have been taken by banks and trust companies in this state heretofore on the basis of appraisals of committees appointed by the bank which appraised the property at anywhere from one and one-half to three times what they were worth with a view of putting a mortgage on the property.

I have personal knowledge of cases where trust companies have invested in mortgages and where the property was appraised by the committee at about three times its assessed value for taxation purposes in a community where the assessment is based on two-thirds of the property value.

It seems to me that these bonds will be more secure than most trust funds are today. I think that is a complete answer to the question asked by the gentleman from McKean.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not a defender of the method by which loans were made in the past. I am not standing here for that purpose. I say that to extend the class of securities in which trustees for other people can invest funds is a mistake and this House should be very careful now and at all other times to put guards around the places where these funds may be invested. Any kind of an institution that goes out to build houses for the poor, which is very commendable and which nobody would criticize, when they get this done and they are rented at a certain fixed figure, fixed by a state board, I say that the securities are mighty poor securities in which to invest the funds of widows and orphans, and the House should not allow it to be done.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I had not intended to open these bills for discussion, but since the members have done so I must go on record against this bill.

For twenty years I have been on the side of those members of the legislature, and that portion of the public, which has contended for a larger measure of home rule for municipalities, and for thirty years I have been a part of the movement, a small part of the movement, which has contended against the centralization and the crystalization of power in state departments.

I can understand very readily why my friend, the gentleman from Berks, favors measures like this. It is because they are so thoroughly Socialistic. My friend from Berks believes in centralizing power not in the hands of the communities but in the hands of the state, and he blandly and with a smile sees this legislature take from the communities and add increased powers to the state, looking forward to the time when the state is socialized and the whole work of the Socialist movement has been done.

This bill opens up the opportunity for distressed owners of decrepit property to unload them upon the Commonwealth or to unload them on a corporation functioning under the name of the Commonwealth. The Department of Welfare and the Department of Property and Supplies already have too much power.

Now, if we give them the control of decrepit and distressed properties in the municipalities throughout this Commonwealth, their power is absolute and complete.

In the matter of its drafting this is the most dangerous measure that has been introduced into this legislature in thirty years.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I regret exceedingly that I have to take exception to the remarks of the gentleman from Cambria when he says that this is purely a Socialistic bill.

I want to read a list of the organizations in the Pittsburgh district that have given support to the House Bills that are now before you:

The Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce. Would the gentleman from Cambria say that this is a Socialistic organization?

The Civic Club of Allegheny County.

The Allegheny County League of Women Voters.

The Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania.

The Pittsburgh Chapter American Institute of Architects. I don't think that they are very socialistic.

The Public Affairs Committee, Federation of Social Agencies. There might be a little bit of Socialism there.

The Pittsburgh Chapter of the American Association of Social Workers. People who are interested in social legislation.

I presume that anybody who arises and appeals to the Assembly in behalf of the people can be talked down by classifying them as Socialists.

Pittsburgh Wholesale Lumber Dealers Association.

Pittsburgh Housing Association.

Pittsburgh Community Council of the North Side of Pittsburgh.

And the Pittsburgh Community Council of the Hill District of Pittsburgh.

In Pittsburgh and in every other large city, as every member of this House knows, there are slum districts where the people in the congested areas of the cities are compelled to live like mere animals without regard to the laws of sanitation. Conditions are not such that these people can live as decent American citizens should live.

If an organization is set up to try and eliminate these districts, as proposed by these bills, which as I have said before, have been carefully gone over by the Attorney General's office, and I presume that is the only method we have of guiding us in regard to the safe guarding of investments of any constitutional provision of any act we may desire to present—they have made the amendments, they have advised with the folks interested in the legislation, and if these bills are passed it gives to the districts that are interested, an opportunity to build new dwellings, an opportunity to provide work and if providing work in times like these is socialistic, then this measure is socialistic. It gives an opportunity for men to go to work and if it is accomplished that it gives people an opportunity to live in better houses than the people now live in, and if that is socialistic, make the most of it, my friend from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we Socialists naturally take it as a compliment when any good legislation is tagged as "Socialistic." I would not call this particular legislation socialistic, however. It is good legislation. Last week you passed a housing bill in this House that was far more socialistic than this one is; you passed a bill authorizing municipalities to build houses and to rent them to the people at low rentals. In other words, you authorized the creation of public authorities for the purpose of putting up houses directly by the people through their municipal agencies. That would be the socialists way of doing it. That is the way it has been done in the City of Vienna, which is the foremost city in that phase of social work, and it is well known to all the people who are interested in the question that that has been a success.

However, because of the objections in this country to municipal housing schemes, we will support this bill, which will provide for corporations with low interest rates and with limited dividends, to build houses and to rent those houses to the people at a reasonable rental. The purpose is a laudable one, and we are for it, and you need not be afraid of it on the ground that it is socialistic. We would go further than this, and the bill which you passed last week went much further than this one does.

I sincerely hope you will vote for this bill.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I again wish to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kane.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. WILSON. On page 14 of your bill at line [illegible] there is a provision contained which gives this limited [illegible]nd corporation the right of eminent domain under the [illegible] of this Commonwealth.

Mr. J. J. KANE. It gives it the right of eminent domain but if you read further down from line 20 to line 29, it provides if they have an option on fifty per cent. of the properties in the area.

Mr. WILSON. But it does give the right to a limited dividend corporation in Pennsylvania that wants to go out and build buildings and rent them at low rents, the right of eminent domain to take whatsoever properties they may desire?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Provided they have an option on fifty per cent. of the properties in the area and it is approved by the state board.

Mr. WILSON. With your bubble that you are blowing up you make it possible that if they want to build properties they can go into any section of any city and take any property under the right of eminent domain?

Mr. J. J. KANE. I didn't know I was blowing a bubble.

Mr. WILSON. That is what it looks like to me.

Mr. J. J. KANE. The bill says very clearly that the Housing Board shall pass on anything that the housing committee does.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen will not indulge in a personal conversation across the hall.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I am attempting to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. You may proceed, with the permission of the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. WILSON. Then, as the gentleman from Cambria has pointed out, and as you say, this would be for somebody here in Harrisburg to decide, that in any of these cities where they have these corporations somebody here in Harrisburg would decide that a certain section of that city will be wiped out and the corporation will proceed to take the property they want under the right of eminent domain, subject only to the decision of somebody in Harrisburg?

Mr. J. J. KANE. I said that provided they had options on fifty per cent. of the property in the area they then place their proposal before the Housing Board for approval.

Mr. WILSON. And that Housing Board meets here in Harrisburg?

Mr. J. J. KANE. That is right.

Mr. WILSON. And in Harrisburg somebody can decide that a certain section in Wilkes Barre, for instance, can be wiped out, and all they have to do is to go into the Prothonotary's office and file their decision to take that property, and they thereby own that property that they have decided to take over in Harrisburg, that is the result, is it not?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, just the same as the Public Service Commission controls your light and the State Liquor Board controls the glass of whiskey that you drink, that we passed last week.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean that the State Liquor Board can come into Allegheny County and take any property without the consent of the owner?

Mr. J. J. KANE. No, Mr. Speaker, they can't take the property but they can control the liquor situation——

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine their remarks and interrogatories to the question before the House.

Mr. WILSON. I take it, Mr. Speaker, that this is a very serious question before the House; the question of whether or not these authorities in Harrisburg can proceed to take over a certain section of a city in the State of Pennsylvania, file notice of their intention in the Prothonotary's office, and thereby own that property under the right of eminent domain. The question of the price to be paid for it is left for determination to the Court and their title has become absolute when they file their intention to take over the property. I ask the members of the House to vote this bill down.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as I arose to be interrogated, and the gentleman from McKean made a speech, I ask for the same privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will proceed.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson, is endeavoring to convey to this House the thought that some person or persons in Harrisburg will decide whether or not these Housing Corporations will have the right of eminent domain.

These Housing Corporations will have the right of eminent domain, as I have stated, when fifty percent of the properties have been secured through options, and the State Housing Board would then pass on the legality of the procedure, investigate very thoroughly and then make its decision.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question or parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, has it been the practice on the part of this House to enforce House Rule No. 72?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, has raised a parliamentary inquiry as to whether House Rule No. 72 is being enforced at the present time. The Chair first will read the rule:

"MEMBERS HAVING PRIVATE INTEREST IN BILL NOT TO VOTE

"A member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the House shall disclose the fact to the House and shall not vote thereon, as required by the Constitution Art. III, Sec. 33." which the Chair will read:

"MEMBERS INTERESTED NOT TO VOTE

"A member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the General Assembly shall disclose the fact to the House of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon."

The Chair is of the opinion that the matter rests entirely within the conscience of the individual member. The Chair goes further and states that even if a member challenge the particular member of the House in question as to his personal interest in a bill, it is the belief and opinion of the Chair that the matter still remains within the conscience of the member challenged. Does that answer the gentleman's parliamentary inquiry?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, a further question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would a member of the House personally interested in property that might conceivably be taken over by a housing corporation be disqualified from voting?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would be of the opinion, and rules, that if that fact were established, the member would not be privileged to vote. Does that answer the gentleman's parliamentary inquiry?

Mr. EDERER. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Laubach, Baker, Peters, Forrest, Duffy, Stiteler, Cooke, Craig, Conner, Nothnagle, Evans, Snyder, Fleisher, Shreiner, Rice, Habbyshaw, John L. Holmes, Hutton, McElwee, Wright, Griffith and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question be now put?

It was agreed to.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will recognize the gentleman from Allegheny but before recognizing him desires to inform him that there is nothing before the House except the calling of the roll.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, may I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. J. J. KANE. May I make a statement under a question of personal privilege, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman may when his name is called if he has any reasons to submit on the question of his vote on the bill; otherwise there is nothing before the body but the calling of the roll.

Mr. J. J. KANE. In writing or from the floor, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. As the gentleman desires.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

PRESENT

Andrews,

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

(The following remarks were made by Mr. J. J. Kane when his name was called during the calling of the roll.)

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. J. J. Kane.

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, in presenting these bills and voting for them I desire to make this statement; I interpreted the remarks of the gentleman from Cambria to indicate that I had a personal interest in this bill. The only interest I have is an endeavor to have legislation passed that will help to eliminate slum districts in the larger cities of this Commonwealth and to start a movement that might provide work for men who need it today.

I have no property in any slum district in any city in the State of Pennsylvania and I have no personal interest other than to see the slums eliminated. So, I want to put that statement on the record so that there will be interpretation that I am supporting any of this legislation as a matter of personal interest or private gain.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be noted on the Journal.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Franklin will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the following explanation that I am about to make I think is in proper justification of the members of this House who last night voted the granting to the Chief Clerk of this House a further leave of absence.

There was read to the House by the Speaker a letter from the Chief Clerk, in which he asked, first, for a continuance of his leave of absence until the next session of the General Assembly; second, that that continued absence as granted should be without pay; third, that in case the present proceeding pending against the Chief Clerk, and which is now on appeal, would be decided adversely to him, he would immediately resign.

On the motion of the gentleman from Franklin, the leave of absence was granted by this House upon the conditions and stipulations as set forth in that letter.

My attention has been directed this morning to certain publications in the public press. One of our Harrisburg papers reads as follows:—"The House by a vote of 112 to 75 granted this leave of absence at White's request. His salary of $6,000.00 a year is therefore continued."

On inspecting one of the reports as carried in a Philadelphia paper, the same statement in substance is made, from which the public could gather the inference that the Chief Clerk was to continue to enjoy a salary of $6000.00 a year despite his absence. That is not correct, and the gentlemen of the press have evidently fallen into what I am charitably disposed to interpret as an inadvertence, and I wish this to appear upon the record.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be noted in the Legislative Journal.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will clear the table.

BILLS RECOMMITTED

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 87 (House Bill No. 74) the bill just read be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. KRAUSE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 98 on second reading entitled:

An act to amend sections ten and fourteen of the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred nineteen) entitled "An act regulating certain political parties providing for and regulating the nomination of candidates of such political parties for certain public offices the election of delegates and alternate delegates to National Party conventions and of certain party officers including State committeemen a method whereby electors of such political parties may express their choice of candidates for the office of President of the United States and the payment by the several counties and their reimbursement by the State of the expense of the same authorizing the State committee of a political party to make and to alter amend and revoke rules and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of certain offenses provided for herein and repealing inconsistent legislation" as variously amended by submitting additional copies of the general return sheet for the triplicate party return sheets in the preparation for conduct of and returning canvassing and computing the vote cast at primary elections regulating the form of the numbered lists of voters regulating the duties of election officers in calling and tabulating the votes and regulating return board procedure be recommitted to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Chester, Mr. Clark.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Chester, Mr. Clark, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Chester, Mr. Clark, his reason for recommitting this bill.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I think it is a very bad bill and ought to be considered further.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that is not a reason for recommitting; that is a reason for voting against the bill. I again ask the Senator from Chester, Mr. Clark, his reason for recommitting the bill.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I think that is reason enough.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I again ask the Senator from Chester, Mr. Clark, to give his reason for recommittment.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I said I felt it was a very bad bill, and I am still of the same opinion. I am against it.

Mr. HARRIS: Mr. President, I again ask the Senator from Chester, Mr. Clark, his reason for recommitting it.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, in order to kill it.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, appealing to the Senator's sense of fairness, I desire to say that in committee yesterday he voted to report this bill out.

I might explain to him that this is in the interest of the election officers. It merely does this: It reduces the amount of clerical work on the part of election officers. They are now required to make out several return sheets, and this bill merely reduces the number.

If the Senator from Chester, Mr. Clark, is against election bills generally, he should try, at sometime, to study these bills so he may understand what they really are.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Allegheny understand that the motion is to recommit, which motion is not debatable?

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, yesterday, at the joint meeting of the Committees on Judiciary General and Appropriations there appeared one Robert Haight, the paid lobbyist of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, and there was a little controversy. During that controversy I charged this man with being a paid employe of former Senator Grundy. Since then I have made an investigation and found out that Senator Grundy has no connection, either directly or indirectly, with that organization with which this paid lobbyist is connected; and, inasmuch as I made the statement to which I have referred, I feel that in making it I did an injustice to Senator Grundy. Therefore, I want to recall that statement, and to express the further hope that the President will give orders that this nefarious paid lobbyist be kept off the floor of this Senate.

Grover C. Talbot, Speaker of House, Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Sir:

The "Legislative Council composed of twenty-nine affiliated organizations wishes to apprise you of its action at an emergency meeting, Friday, Dec. 8th.

The following resolution placed it on our record as unqualifedly favoring all social measures before the present session of the Legislature.

Since there is now before the House and Senate a large number of bills dealing with social measures, and whereas, there has been a deplorable failure on the part of certain Committee Chairmen, to call committees together for a vote on these measures, we therefore urge that the Legislature entertain no motion to adjourn until all social legislation now before it has been acted upon.

Sincerely Yours,
(Signed) Mrs. Geo. G. Bray, Sec'y.

INFORMATION REQUESTED FROM SECRETARY OF STATE OF UNITED STATES.

Mr. LANE offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, December 13, 1933.

Whereas, The closing down in whole or in part of hundreds of manufacturing factories in the last five years in United States of America by their American owners, who have gone and built the same kind of factories in foreign countries is responsible in a large measure for the great increase in both the unemployed and the cost of their relief, also the large increase of unpaid taxes and greatly reduced the buying power of the American people, and

Whereas, Many of these American owned factories built in foreign cuntries are and have been shipping back into United States of America the same products made by cheaper labor in these foreign countries that they formerly manufactured in United States of America, and are thus helping to close down what few American factories that are now giving employment to American citizens and who are now paying their taxes to help run the American government in local County, State and National affairs, and

Whereas, The President and Congress has declared war against the depression that is now upon the United States, and

Whereas, Congress has given the President free power to act in any move he believes would help America return to prosperity,

Resolved, That it is the consensus of opinion of the members of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania that the Congress of the United States should without delay request the Secretary of State to furnish to Congress the following information, which Congress shall make public.

First—A list of the names and the American address along side of their foreign address of all American firms or individuals that have closed down in whole or in part their factories in the United States of America and built the same kind of factories in foreign countries who have and are now shipping some of their foreign made goods back into the United States of America either in finished or unfinished goods and state whether they are imported into the country or without a duty being paid.

Second—State the number of employees laid off by these American firms or individuals that moved to foreign countries and are now importing some of these goods from their foreign factories into the United States of America.

Third—State the amount of wages paid to their employees in their foreign factories and the amount of wages paid to their employees in their factories in the United States of America.

Fourth—State the cost of production and selling price in America of American manufactured goods and along side in another column state the cost and selling price of the same kind of goods selling in the United States that were manufactured in some foreign country and give the name of the country they were made in.

Fifth—State amount of money invested in each of these American built factories in foreign countries and in another column state the amount of taxes lost to the American people when they closed down in whole or part their factories in the United States of America.

RESOLUTION

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a resolution at this time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin, that his resolution is out of order at this time on account of the time necessary to accomplish the purpose of his resolution. The bill referred to in the resolution has not been in the Committee ten days. The Chair further informs the gentleman that after today a similar resolution will be in order.

RESOLUTION No. 20

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 20, Printer's No. 129.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 12, 1933.

Whereas New Year's Day a legal holiday falls for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four on Monday and

Whereas New Year's Eve is generally celebrated throughout the State by people awaiting the advent of the New Year and

Whereas The sale of liquors is allowed only from seven o'clock ante meridian of any week day until two o'clock of the following week day and

Whereas It is unlawful to sell liquors on Sunday the law is open to the construction that the intervention of Sunday between Saturday and Monday prohibits the sale of liquors on Monday between the hours of twelve o'clock midnight and two o'clock ante meridian although such sales are legal on any other week day therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That it is the sense of the General Assembly that persons licensed to sell liquors for consumption on the premises where sold shall be permitted to sell such liquors between the hours of twelve o'clock midnight and two o'clock ante meridian on Monday January first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and that no licensee shall be penalized or his or her license revoked for the sale of liquors on said day between the hours specified in this resolution

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board by the acting Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there appears to be some misunderstanding as to whether or not this resolution is a resolution that would bring about the sale of liquor on Sunday. That is not so. This resolution merely provides that at 12.01 Monday morning of January 1st 1934, until 2.00 A. M. on Monday morning, January 1st, 1934, hotels and restaurants be permitted to sell liquor. It is my opinion that under the present existing law they can so do, and it is also the opinion of the Legislative Reference Bureau that they can so do; however, the Attorney General in his wisdom has said that they cannot, because Sunday intervenes between Saturday and Monday. The sole purpose of this resolution is to enable the hotels and restaurants to sell you a drink between 12.00 o'clock on Monday morning, January 1st, 1934 and 2.00 A. M. January 1st, 1934, without running the risk of losing their licenses. It does not interfere in any way with the Sabbath. It permits us to take a drink and gives the privilege to the hotels to sell it to us. I don't think it is even the spirit or the intention of the law not to permit them to sell, but this resolution is offered so that the hotel that sells you a drink at 1.00 o'clock in the morning of January 1st, 1934, will not have its license revoked for so doing. I ask you to support the resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the [illegible] concurrence.

SESSIONS OF HOUSE ON THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Mr. HOOPES offered a motion which was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved by Representative Hoopes that this body sit in session on Thursday, December 14th and Friday, December 15th, so that all legislation now on the calendar either may be passed and sent to the Senate or be defeated.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this House on Monday evening passed a resolution offered by the Rules Committee fixing next Thursday noon as the day for final adjournment. That has been passed by the Senate, so that it is finally fixed and cannot now be changed without the concurrence of the Senate and so that when noon of Thursday comes we will adjourn. We may turn the clock back as we have done many times before, but still we will not have sufficient days to pass the bills which are now on the calendar on second reading, or first reading, unless they get to the Senate very promptly.

Personally I don't like the idea of staying in Harrisburg all week, but we must remember that our first duty is to our constituents.

There are measures on the calendar and there are measures before committees of the House which may be reported out today, which are of the utmost importance to the people of this Commonwealth. I have in mind my anti-compensation bill for deputy sheriffs which is in the hands of the Committee, and which I have hopes of getting out in the very near future.

If we adjourn for the week today it will be impossible to get such legislation through no matter how rapid the action may be because there won't be but seven legislative days to make it possible. We have on the calendar today several bills which are very important, one for instance is the one which provides for deputy sheriffs to be paid by the counties, and a number of others. If we are to adjourn one week from today it will be impossible for such legislation to get through the House and the Senate.

I wish to call the attention of the members of this House to the bills on first and second reading before this House, that if we adjourn for the week today, that this legislation is just as good as dead now. If you want these bills in which you are interested to go through it is absolutely necessary that we stay here tomorrow and the next day. The people of Pennsylvania want this legislation. The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor and a number of other civic organizations are anxious for this legislation to be passed. I do not think it is in accord with public policy for us to fold up our tents and quietly slink away, or however that quotation is to that effect. But it is up to us to stay here and pass on this most important legislation, either to vote for it or vote against it. If you think the people of your district don't want it, it is your duty to vote against it, but it is your duty to stay here and vote on it. These bills have been introduced in plenty of time to be passed on by the Committee and to be here before us. It is no fault of those who are sponsoring this motion that these bills are not out. I appeal to the members of this House to vote for this motion in order that we may stay in session and give this social legislation a chance.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I take it that the motion is not in order, and even if this House should pass such a motion, it would not preclude a motion to adjourn at any time by the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that the point of order is not well taken, because this body may at any time by a majority vote direct its procedure; therefore, the motion is in order.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise to talk in the interest of this motion, because I feel that it means considerable to the labor forces of this House and this Commonwealth. Very much depends on what you have done in the next two days, and there are some bills that are very important from the labor viewpoint, and from the social viewpoint, that can be advanced if we agree to remain in session two more days this week. Therefore, I want to add my request to the one already made to continue this session for two more days. There is one bill in particular, House Bill No. 124, that we would like to have action on, so that it can be either passed or turned down by this House. We feel there is a great sentiment throughout the State in behalf of this legislation, and we feel as representatives of labor that it is our duty to exert every effort to have a vote taken on these measures, and I ask the members of this House to support this motion.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Hermansen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Hermansen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERMANSEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Hermansen, what do you regard as the five most important bills on the social legislation program?

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, from the labor standpoint I consider House Bill No. 124, the railroad bill, Mr. Craig's bill, the child labor amendment and the old age pension as the most important and these are the four bills in which I am particularly interested.

Mr. SOWERS. In other words, of the four most important legislative bills, the first is the old age pension, is that right?

Mr. HERMANSEN. Yes sir.

Mr. SOWERS. And that is on third reading today?

Mr. HERMANSEN. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. We don't have to continue in session to pass on that, do we?

Mr. HERMANSEN. No.

Mr. SOWERS. What do you regard as the next most important bill?

Mr. HERMANSEN. House Bill No. 124.

Mr. SOWERS. That is on second reading today, isn't it?

Mr. HERMANSEN. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. Just what is that bill?

Mr. HERMANSEN. That is the Mason bill on child labor, and on minimum wage.

Mr. SOWERS. And that can pass today on second reading?

Mr. HERMANSEN. Yes, but it can't get through the Senate before it adjourns.

Mr. SOWERS. It can pass Monday night and be messaged over to the Senate; is that right?

Mr. HERMANSEN. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. What do you regard as the third most important piece of legislation?

Mr. HERMANSEN. The railroad bill.

Mr. SOWERS. That is really a labor union bill, that is not a social bill.

Mr. HERMANSEN. I regard it as a social bill.

Mr. SOWERS. In other words, you mix together social bills which are for all of the people with labor bills for the union?

Mr. HERMANSEN. I figure that society is interested in alleviating and eliminating and improving labor conditions.

Mr. SOWERS. What do you consider the next most important legislation?

Mr. HERMANSEN. I would say that it is a question between Mr. Sterling's income tax bill——

Mr. SOWERS. That is not out of committee?

Mr. HERMANSEN. That is out of committee.

Mr. SOWERS. You think that the income tax bill is a social bill?

Mr. HERMANSEN. Absolutely.

Mr. SOWERS. What do you regard as the next most important bill?

Mr. HERMANSEN. I have forgotten what we have gone over; I have forgotten what we went over.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman what he regards as the next most important bill.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I answer by saying Mr. Craig's child labor bill.

Mr. SOWERS. I want to call your attention to the child labor bill, House Bill No. 153 on page 10 of today's calendar. That bill is on third reading today. Would we have to stay here to pass that?

Mr. HERMANSEN. No.

Mr. SOWERS. It don't seem to me that there is very much for us to stay here for.

Mr. HERMANSEN. In answer to that question, could I ask you a question, Mr. Sowers?

Mr. SOWERS. Yes.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Don't you think it would be wise to stay and advance all of the measures that it is possible to advance.

Mr. SOWERS. What I want to know is what we are to stay for?

Mr. HERMANSEN. To finish what we have begun.

Mr. SOWERS. May I ask what it is that we have not finished?

Mr. HERMANSEN. The bills that have not come through yet.

Mr. SOWERS. Your Craig bill will have time to get through.

Mr. HERMANSEN. The Senate will have four days.

Mr. SOWERS. The Senate will have four days and the responsibility is not with us it is with the Senate. Do you want to stay here for two more days as a debating society?

Mr. HERMANSEN. I do not want to stay if it is not necessary, but it is my impression that we have to stay if we want to get cleaned up.

Mr. SOWERS. What is your experience; give me some concrete reason why it is necessary for us to stay here.

Mr. HERMANSEN. I have given you these reasons.

Mr. SOWERS. It don't seem that your reasons are sound.

Mr. HERMANSEN. The Sterling income tax——

Mr. SOWERS. Do you want to stay here in order to put a tax on the people?

Mr. HERMANSEN. I would stay here another month to put that bill through.

Mr. SOWERS. To put a tax on the people?

Mr. HERMANSEN. To change the form of taxation.

Mr. SOWERS. You have had time enough to do that?

Mr. HERMANSEN. No.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under the guise of social legislation many matters are sought to be included in that program, for instance, the full crew bill. How can you say that that is social legislation? Social legislation means legislation for all of the people, not for a little group. Social legislation means legislation that benefits everybody, and not a little group. I have a very high regard for my friend, who is a leader in social legislation movements and I think I have been pretty active in its behalf in the past, but I don't want, under the guise of social legislation, to have laid in my lap and I don't think that you do, and to have put before us legislation that it is not social legislation.

I can see no reason why this resolution should pass. The Senate will have all of these bills, the responsibility will be with the Senate and not with us. We cannot do any more than to pass these bills If we pass them are we to remain here simply as a debating society? I ask you to vote no on the resolution.

Mr. J. J. KANE, I arise to support this resolution, not particularly for the purpose of asking the membership to stay here, but in the interest of social legislation, and there is lots of this pending in committees, which I understand will be reported out of committees, and which I understand will be beneficial to sections of the State that they can borrow money from the Federal Government for the purpose of putting people back to work.

We can adjourn today and follow the procedure of meeting next week and in sending these bills to the Senate, and then continue here for days afterward. We have the time, plenty of time, and I hope the members of the House will support the motion to stay here and try to get some of the bills out of committee and pass those that are on the calendar, if we expect to pass this social legislation and this legislation that will enable the counties to borrow money from the Government for projects to put people back to work. That is what the Federal Government wants to do, but the State of Pennsylvania is in a position where they cannot do it. We do not have the necessary legislation. If we pass this legislation we can put people back to work.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. J. J. Kane.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. J. J. KANE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman, has not this House passed the Liquor Control Act?

Mr. J. J. KANE. That is true.

Mr. SOWERS. Has it not passed the floor tax on liquor?

Mr. J. J. KANE. That is so.

Mr. SOWERS. Has it not passed the permanent tax on liquor?

Mr. J. J. KANE. That is right.

Mr. SOWERS. Has it not passed the proper tax on beer?

Mr. J. J. KANE. That is right.

Mr. SOWERS. Has it not passed the proper beer license tax bill?

Mr. J. J. KANE. That is so.

Mr. SOWERS. Has it not properly taxed the manufacturing permits for alcohol?

Mr. J. J. KANE. That is right.

Mr. SOWERS. Has it not passed the proper bond issue for veteran's bonuses?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. Has it not passed the proper bill for the distribution of the bonuses?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would suggest that the gentleman read them altogether.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I would prefer to read them all individually. Has it not passed the proper measures for relief of depositors in banks from the four mill tax?

Mr. J. J. KANE. I would suggest that you lump these all together.

Mr. SOWERS. I am afraid it would shock you. I would rather give them to you in small doses.

Mr. J. J. KANE. The reason I suggested this, Mr. Sowers, is because I know you are in a hurry to get home.

Mr. SOWERS. No, I am not in a hurry. I want to go home with the proper backing, not only what we would——

Mr. J. J. KANE. I know you would like to get home and are just trying to pull this in.

Mr. SOWERS. Have we not passed the proper bill with reference to the long and short haul legislation? We passed it, didn't we?

Mr. J. J. KANE. No.

Mr. SOWERS. We passed a proper one?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Well, we passed a bill.

Mr. SOWERS. And you didn't offer any amendments to the bill?

Mr. J. J. KANE. No sir.

Mr. SOWERS. So whatever is improper in the bill is there because you didn't offer amendments?

Mr. J. J. KANE. I am not discussing what we did pass, but what we didn't pass.

Mr. SOWERS. Have we not passed legislation to take care of the Federal moneys for toll bridges?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. Have we not passed legislation for the abatement of penalties on tax bills in first class cities?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. Has not the House passed the minimum wage bill?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. Has not this House passed an old age pension bill?

Mr. J. J. KANE. I would not say we passed an old age pension bill.

Mr. SOWERS. Have we not passed an old age assistance bill?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. Have we not passed a bill with reference to the employment of citizens on public works?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. Have we not passed the bill providing for unemployment relief, forty million dollars?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. Have we not passed a bill for stay of execution against debtors.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, the motion before the House reads in part: "so that all legislation now on the calendar either may be passed and sent to the Senate or be defeated."

The discussion between the two gentlemen does not refer to any legislation which is on the calendar.

The SPEAKER. In answer to the question propounded by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, it is the belief of the Chair that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, is attempting to establish the fact as stated in the motion and therefore so rules, and the gentleman from Philadelphia will proceed on the basis of the motion before the House.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Kane, have we not passed legislation to take care of the Federal Home Loan bonds?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. Have we not passed legislation to take care of the Constitutional amendments for toll bridge bonds.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. Have we not passed legislation with reference to toll bridge acquisition?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. Have we not passed appropriation bills for the issue of the bonus bonds for the veterans?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. We, of course, passed legislation appropriating money to support state stores?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. We passed appropriation bills to take care of the deficiencies that the Governor called our attention too; is that right?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. And we passed legislation in this House to aid boroughs in the recovery program; that is right, is it not?

Mr. J. J. KANE. We have in a sense I would say. There is other legislation that I am interested in that will help them further.

Mr. SOWERS. What for instance?

Mr. J. J. KANE. The bill that will help the counties to borrow money.

Mr. SOWERS. Is that not a matter for the General session?

Mr. J. J. KANE. It is considered within this call.

Mr. SOWERS. Has not the House passed legislation for the blind?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes sir.

Mr. SOWERS. Has it not passed appropriations for blind pensions?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. Has it not passed a bill for the abatement of tax penalties in second class cities?

Mr. J. J. KANE. No, counties.

Mr. SOWERS. Has it not passed legislation for the cancellation of supply contracts, that is recovery legislation?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Yes sir.

Mr. SOWERS. Has it not passed legislation to aid distressed school districts?

Mr. J. J. KANE. It has in a sense, yes.

Mr. SOWERS. You didn't amend that legislation, did you?

Mr. J. J. KANE. No.

Mr. SOWERS. Can you mention anything of any importance that this House has not passed on?

Mr. J. J. KANE. In answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, as I understand the motion, the motion is to ask the House to stay here until we are certain that the bills here now will get the proper consideration, all bills on the calendar. In addition to social legislation, I would to say to you, Mr. Sowers, has the House passed any substantial amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act?

Mr. SOWERS. The amendments were offered,

Mr. J. J. KANE. I understand you are a friend of labor and are interested in that subject.

Mr. SOWERS. Absolutely. You are right.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman state his point of order.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, this interrogation is not being conducted in conformity with legislative requirements.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman state in what manner it is not being conducted properly?

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, the participants have not been addressing the Chair?

The SPEAKER. Before ruling on the point of order may the chair first ask the gentleman from Monroe a question: Does he mean that in every instance in the interrogations they should be addressed to the Chair?

Mr. RHODES. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. That is proper. The point of order is well taken, and in the future all interrogations will be addressed to the Chair. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. J. J. KANE. I apologize to the Chair.

The SPEAKER. That is not necessary, the Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kane, because it was not intentional.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kane; did not this House pass legislation with reference to Firemen's Relief yesterday?

Mr. J. J. Kane. They did, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kane, this question; I am not referring to generalities, but I am asking him to put his finger on specific things; can he mention anything which this House did not pass on that is proper for an extraordinary session. Is there any social legislation that has not been acted upon?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, I want to be specific, and I will ask the gentleman to ask me the question again.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I am afraid the gentleman cannot answer the question.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, at least the gentleman should extend me the courtesy of stating his question again.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I didn't mean it that way.

The SPEAKER. The Chair suggests that the interrogation is wandering very far afield on the motion. It was the belief of the Chair when the point of order was raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, that Mr. Sowers were attempting to build up a case which would end in showing that the legislation that was on the calendar could be passed. Therefore the Chair suggests now that you proceed along the lines of the motion before the House.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I have no further question to ask.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to prolong the discussion, but I did, in the interrogation of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, get the impression that the gentlemen inquired whether there was a bill that we had not passed and which the Senate was called upon to consider. I refer to the bill on the calendar, on first reading, the deputy sheriffs bill. In the call of the Governor for this special session, one of the most important pieces of legislation asked by the Governor was the abolition of the paid deputy sheriffs throughout the State of Pennsylvania. In addition to that bill there is a bill sponsored by myself for the abolition of the coal and iron police in Pennsylvania. Any person who has gone through an experience and who knows anything about the paid deputy sheriffs by coal companies and by steel companies and who has followed the history of the coal and iron police know that that is an important piece of legislation to discuss and this House is responsible to decide whether we will abolish and correct this evil in Pennsylvania. That is only one piece of legislation that we have not passed or acted upon. Another is, I don't believe that this question of milk control, which is very vital to the people of Pennsylvania, has been passed on by the House. The question of income tax which the people of the city of Pittsburgh and the county of Allegeny are petitioning the members of this House to give consideration to has not been acted upon. The proposition for second class counties to borrow thirty million dollars to support projects to put people back to work has not been considered; and the question of considering legally the issuing of revenue bonds has not been considered.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, has stated that there is not any one single act that we have not considered. I submit this to him, while agreeing with him that we have passed a number of pieces of legislation.

Mr. BERNHARD. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Sowers has referred to labor bills as not being social legislation. We differ with him and we believe that these bills are a part of the social legislation program. We had the experience last week of hearing the Chairman of the Committee on Labor stating that he would call a meeting of the Labor Committee when he saw fit.

The SPEAKER. The Chair must insist that the gentleman discuss the motion before the House.

Mr. BRENHARD. Mr. Speaker, I believe that the full crew bill is on the calendar today and therefore it is before the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. BRENHARD. Mr. Speaker, we went through the experience of having the gentleman who is Chairman of the Committee on Labor state——

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WILSON. I understand the gentleman is required to confine his remarks to the motion, and not what we did last week.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken, and the gentleman from Carbon must confine his remarks to the motion before the House.

Mr. BERNHARD. Mr. Speaker, we have on the calendar today the full crew bill, which was here for twenty-one days. Out of deference to those gentlemen who are interested in the passage of this bill, we did not insist on it before, but we are now reaching a final stage. Since my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, is voting against that and does not want to hurry up this session and get out of here, I hope that he will go along on all of these bills.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I don't want to prolong this session. I want to speak in support of this motion. I am one of the new members in the House, and it is unmoral perhaps for me to get up to do any criticising, but I do know, and even anybody with no greater experience knows and can have an opinion, and I object to the method of the actions of committees of this House. That is all the cause of the argument here. I am not foolish enough to think that the House will side with me, but a body of men elected by the people and sent here for that purpose——

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman from Erie discussing today's calendar?

Mr. McCREARY. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I think I am.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, today's calendar is the result of the actions of the committees.

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman referring to the committee or to the chairman of the committee?

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I just don't know how to proceed under the rules. I did have something I would like to say.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I just want to object to the general treatment and the treatment I have received in these committees. I introduced five bills at the beginning of the session and so far I only have one out on the floor of the House, and that is on third reading today, and the other four are still in pickle.

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman's statement in regard to bills which are still in committee or which are on the calendar?

Mr. McCREARY. That are on the calendar. I am afriad, Mr. Speaker, I do not understand the rules well enough to continue.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Erie.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCREARY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Erie, Mr. McCreary, whether his remarks, as to how he has been treated by the Chairmen of the different committees, whether that includes the Chairman of the Committee on Education?

Mr. McCREARY. I beg your pardon, I didn't say chairmen of committees.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman as to his treatment by the Chairman of the Committee on Education.

Mr. McCREARY. I am not a member of that Committee on I have no bill in that Committee. There was not a thing personal about any of this.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Howard, will state his point of order.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, this gentleman in his interrogation is not interrogating on the motion or anything that is on the calendar.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen will confine themselves to the motion before the House.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. McCreary do you have any objection to the treatment you received by the Chairman of the Committee on Education.

Mr. McCREARY. I do not.

The SPEAKER. The point of order raised by the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Howard, is well taken.

Mr. FITZGERALD. I promise, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that I will be very brief. What I want to do is to call your attention to the fact that if this motion does not prevail important social legislation will be locked out forever, so far as this session is concerned. I especially want to call your attention to bill number 200 on page 6 of today's calendar, Bill No. 199 on page 8 of today's calendar, and Bill No. 196 on page 8 of today's calendar, relative to Workmen's Compensation Law, and the amendments thereto. They are necessary social legislation in every detail and what we have done with toll bridges, liquor control or anything else has no bearing whatever on it. I would like to call your attention to the coal and iron police bill, No. 34 on page 9 of today's calendar, the deputy sheriff's bill No. 65, on page 1, and the full crew bill, No. 60 on page 8 of today's calendar.

These bills must necessarily have sufficient time to pass and this motion must prevail if that legislation is to be enacted, and for that reason I ask the members of this House to support the motion.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have listened very patiently and I presume with profit to a long series of interrogations, some of which, with the indulgence of the Chair, have wandered rather far afield. Possibly a few remarks might clarify the situation. In the first place we have in this House adopted a resolution to adjourn on the twenty-first day of December. That resolution has been concurred in by the Senate. Therefore, we will adjourn upon the twenty-first day of December.

The motion as made by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, has reference to bills which are now upon the calendar. In scanning over that legislation, it seems to me that all of the important legislation as referred to in the calendar of today can be acted upon if the necessary celerity in the Senate is taken advantage of in the days which still remain of this legislative session. It is quite apparent that with the resolution to adjourn on the twenty-first of December we must stop at some point. According to the motion which is now before the House, we would stay in assembly tomorrow and Friday and in the meanwhile other bills will be reported from Committee, in all probability, and they themselves will be placed upon the calendar. The sponsors of those bills have just as much right to insist upon a consideration of their bills finally as the sponsors of the bills which are on the calendar at the present moment. Consequently, we have to stop at some point and I can see no merit in our remaining here until Friday. The interrogations as brought out by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, were well in point and I would therefore ask the members of the House to vote this motion down.

Mr. EDERER. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Nothnagle, Weidemann, Price, Fleisher, Wike, White, Woodside, Shreiner, Rice, John L. Holmes, Conner, Wilson, Zimmerman, Storb, Forrest, Craig, Stiteler, Baldi, Bennett, Witkin and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question be now put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Hoopes and Mrs. Wilson.

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

PRESENT

McElwee,

Mr. CANNON. Mr. Speaker, on the affirmative roll, did I understand that Mr. Williams, George, was recorded as voting? Mr. Williams, George, was not in his seat when the roll was called.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I was in my seat and voted.

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman making charges?

Mr. CANNON. I ask for forgiveness. I understand Mr. Williams, George, was in his seat, it was Mr. Walker who was not in his seat

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman wishes to challenge any vote he must do so in writing.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I was in my chair and I voted no when my name was called, and afterwards I was called out to meet a delegation.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman is challenging any member the challenge must be sent to the desk in writing.

Mr. CANNON. Mr. Speaker, it is Walker.

The SPEAKER. It matters not, if the gentleman is making charges he must send them to the desk in writing.

The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Philadelphia, first asking him a question: from what county does the gentleman, Mr. Walker, come, whose vote the gentleman is challenging?

Mr. CANNON. Delaware County, I believe.

The SPEAKER. The Chair informs the gentleman that it is impossible for Mr. Walker to have come from Delaware although we would be proud to welcome him.

Mr. CANNON. For the information of the Speaker and the members of the House, I shall spell the county S-u-l-i-v-a-n.

The SPEAKER. The Chair regrets that the gentleman in his spelling missed one "l."

The Chair desires to inform the gentleman that the gentleman referred to is not recorded as voting, and therefore, the discussion is closed.

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate which were laid upon the table.

RESOLUTIONS

LIQUOR TO BE SOLD IN SMALL QUANTITIES

Mr. BOYD offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 13th, 1933.

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board is empowered by clause (g) of Section 201 of the "Pennsylvania Liquor Control Act," "to determine the nature, form, and capacity of all packages to be used for containing liquor kept or sold under this act"; and

Whereas, It is desirable that the liquors, particularly those in common use, be made available at the State liquor stores in quantities sufficiently small to be within the means of those unable to purchase in large quantities, and thereby remove this incentive to deal with persons illicitly trafficing in liquors; there be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the House of representatives that all liquors offered for sale at any State liquor store should be so offered in quantities at least as small as pints.

Resolved, That the General Assembly hereby recommends to the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board that it provide for the sale of liquors in the State liquor stores in quantities at least as small as pints.

Resolved, That the acting chief clerk of the House of Representatives transmit a copy of this resolution to each of the members of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

BILL SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 43.

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Military Affairs.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

PAYMENT OF APPROPRIATION TO SCHOOL DISTRICT

Mr. CORDIER offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 13th, 1933.

Whereas, There are many school districts within the Commonwealth that are far in arrears in the payment of salaries to school teachers; and

Whereas, These school teachers have remained at their posts, carrying on their professions for the benefit of the youth of this Commonwealth, giving of their knowledge and ability for the general welfare, relying only upon their faith in the responsibility of the Commonwealth and their school districts for the final payment of the remuneration due them for their services and necessary for their sustenance; and

Whereas, House Bill No. 74, already passed upon finally by this House, makes an appropriation of $5,000,000 for the purposes of furnishing aid to financially handicapped and distressed school districts in such manner as the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall determine; therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this House that payment for such appropriation should first be made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to such school districts as are in arrears in the payment of salaries to teachers by reason of inability to collect taxes, to the end that they receive the just compensation due for their services, and for their unselfish adherence to duty; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the acting Chief Clerk to the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I have no idea of opposing this resolution, but simply that the Committee on Education may consider it I move that the resolution be sent to the Committee on Education. I promise the House that during the recess we will meet and that we will make report before the day is out. I think it should go to the Committee on Education and I think Mr. Cordier will agree with me that it is an important matter.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson, that it will be impossible to refer this resolution to any committee until it is printed.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my request for immediate consideration.

The resolution lies over for printing under the rules.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I am thinking there would be no objection to the Committee on Education discussing it?

The SPEAKER. Surely not.

MR. HUTTON IN THE CHAIR.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask whether it has been the practice of this House to enforce Rule 71.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the members the Chair will read part of Rule 71 in reply to the gentleman's inquiry:

"Each member shall be present within the Hall of the House during its sittings, unless excused by the House or necessarily prevented."

The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Cambria that it has not been the custom to demand the attendance of the members at sessions. In the instance that there might not be a quorum present, however, it would then be the duty of the Chair to close the doors and recess from time to time until a quorum was procured. However, this body governs that which it desires and by a majority vote on any occasion can rigidly enforce anything it desires by majority vote.

Does that answer the gentleman's inquiry?

ATTENDANCE OF MEMBERS REQUIRED

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, then I offer the motion which has been sent to the desk.

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The motion was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved, That no Member of this House who has not been granted a leave of absence shall absent himself from the sessions of this House during the remainder of this week, except by leave of the House on account of illness or death in his or her family, and that Rule 71 of this House be rigidly enforced.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to decide.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Long and were as follows:

The SPEAKER. The communication will be ready by the Clerk.

The communication was read by the Clerk as follows:

My dear Mr. Wilson:

I am too sick to meet with our Educational Committee and to remain for the afternoon session, therefore, I ask to be excused. If at all able I should be here tomorrow.

(My physician is Dr. John Fager of Harrisburg, who will certify to the statement as to my condition.)

Very respectfully,

H. A. SURFACE.

Mr. WILSON. Mr Speaker, I ask for leave of absence for the gentleman from Snyder, Mr. Surface.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires further to inform the body that this letter was written this morning, as I understand.

Leave of absence was granted.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the roll call shows, I think, one hundred and sixty-two members present. I would like to inquire how many leaves of absence are on record as having been granted by this House.

The SPEAKER. So that the Chair may answer the question of parliamentary inquiry officially, will the gentleman tarry with his inquiry until we ascertain the facts?

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. EDERER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for leave of absence for my colleague, the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Storb, on account of illness. He was sick this afternoon. I do not know whether he has yet left for home, but I know that such were his intentions. If he has left, I would like to ask for leave of absence for him on account of illness.

Leave of absence was granted.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 28, Printer's No. 83, entitled

An Act relating to limited dividend reconstruction corporations defining and providing for the formation of such corporations for the purpose of reconstructing slum areas extending to such corporations certain existing laws relating generally to business corporations providing for the supervision and regulation of the activities of such corporations by the State Board of Housing in the Department of Property and Supplies providing for the protection of such corporations and the parties dealing with them prescribing defining and limiting the powers and duties of such corporations conferring upon such corporations and limiting their use of the power of eminent domain exempting such corporations from the payment of the capital stock tax conferring certain powers upon municipalities making certain securities of such corporations legal investments for funds in the hands of municipal officers insurance companies and associations saving bank and savings institutions was defeated on final passage Tuesday, December 12, 1933, be reconsidered.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tahl, vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the negative.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, this bill was defeated yesterday by a vote of 93 to 91. Since that time those who opposed the bill have agreed to certain amendments, amendments that will particularly clarify the question of eminent domain, and the motion now before you is a motion to reconsider this bill for the purpose of inserting the amendments.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kane.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. J. J. KANE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what amendments are being offered. The gentleman from Allegheny spoke to me yesterday, and said that he was preparing certain amendments and would do me the honor of seeing that they were submitted to me, but I have not yet seen the amendments. I think I am entitled to see the amendments.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I did talk with the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson, regarding these amendments, and talked to others also. I believe that it was thoroughly understood by all the others, with the exception possibly of Mr. Wilson, that these amendments would be agreeable. If the gentleman desires, I will now show them to him, or present them to the desk, but I thought they would be satisfactory to everybody that had objections yesterday.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to be at all obstreperous but I would like to know if the gentleman from Allegheny would be kind enough to say, in a word, what the amendments do.

Mr. J. J. KANE. I did not hear the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson, requests the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kane, to inform the House with respect to the purpose of the amendments.

Mr. J. J. KANE. The purpose of the amendment is to meet the objections relative to the investment of savings funds, insurance companies and savings banks. The purpose is to amend that in order to meet the objections.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if it does away with the provisions that makes these securities a proper investment for insurance companies and savings banks.

Mr. J. J. KANE. That is right, Mr. Speaker; to strike that section out.

Mr. WILSON. What about eminent domain, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Shall I read the amendment, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman may proceed for the information of the House.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, the section relative to eminent domain has been amended, inserting, "the consent of the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which the area is located, which may be granted on petition if the Court deems such acquisition to be in the public interest and necessary for public uses. The Court shall not authorize any such acquisition by eminent domain until the Reconstruction Corporation has first acquired.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The court shall not authorize any such acquisition by eminent domain until the reconstruction corporation has first acquired."

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mrs. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the house, this bill, House Bill 144, which you have before you at the present time, is a Constitutional Amendment to legalize old age assistance.

I feel that I would be remiss in my duty to the people of my county and the people of the State of Pennsylvania if I did not at this time raise my voice in advocacy of a measure of this kind, which I know will mean so much to these old men and women within our borders. No man or woman has been more insistent, more anxious than I during my term of office in this Legislature to secure for the old men and women of this State some means of support during the declining years. To this end I have introduced the measures of this character, providing for assistance for men and women too old to work. Today you have before you bills such as House Bill No. 144 and House Bill No. 145, which enacted into law, will gladden the hearts of hundreds of old people whose lives will be lengthened and brightened by this just and kindly act.

The Old Age Pension movement in the United States compared to that of European countries is in its infancy, but in the past twelve years, twenty-five states have passed pension laws in some form or other.

These laws have not been uniform, but the same general character prevails, all of them making some provision for old men and women without means of support.

The need for old age assistance was never greater than at the present time, because of the inability of aged people to find employment and thereby support themselves. Most of these old men and women have worked all their lives, from the time they were little boys and girls. They have toiled in mines and mills and sweat shops to make the world a better place in which to live. Now they find themselves at life's sunset, on the industrial scrap heap without means. Visions of the poor house live with them day by day and make their last years a hideous night mare. To them we owe at least some measure of society, peace and contentment.

We cannot evade our social responsibility; these aged dependents must continue to be provided for, either in poor houses as charitable wards, or in a more decent manner, by financial assistance.

Last week this House passed a measure to provide assistance to aged indigent workers of this State. This bill is perhaps an entering wedge by which to secure better legislation later on, but it by no means meets the necessary requirements of today.

If we are to have an adequate workable pension system for our aged, we must amend our constitution as this bill provides.

I earnestly hope this body will join the many other states in giving proper consideration of our aged fellow beings in distress.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the lady from Berks.

The SPEAKER. Will the lady from Berks, Mrs. Wilson, permit herself to be interrogated.

Mrs. WILSON. I will try to answer, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, is this bill the same bill from which the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities was discharged?

Mrs. WILSON. No, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. A different bill, Mr. Speaker?

Mrs. WILSON. This was a bill, Mr. Speaker, that was in the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

Mr. SOWERS. Then, My Speaker, this is not the bill that the Democrats have gotten up?

Mrs. WILSON. No, Mr. Speaker, this is the one that the Socialists have gotten up.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DeFREHN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOOPES. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DeFREHN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Berks, whether he has ever had occasion to worry about the question of where the money was to come from to meet the pay roll of his employes?

Mr. HOOPES. If the last word is in the singular, I have had that trouble and worry. I have had a stenographer for many years, and I frequently have been worried very much as to where the pay roll was to come from.

Mr. DeFREHN. Then, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I presume the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, is prepared to vote with me on the question. I want to tell you ladies and gentlemen of this House that I have been worried, and I have no doubt that thousands of the operators of industries in this State also have, especially those who have earnestly and faithfully shared with their employes the earnings of their business.

During the past four years at considerable sacrifice and loss to ourselves, we continued to operate to the best of our ability, for the purpose of enabling our employees to earn a living for themselves and their families.

You will recall that on March 4, last, the banks of the country closed their doors for an indefinite period, tying up the money of the nation.

If a law, such as this here proposed, had been in effect, we would have been compelled to close our plant to remain closed until we were sure that the money was on hand to meet the payroll, lest we might be arrested, fined or thrust into jail.

Our employees desired to work, believing they would receive their pay sometime, if not on hand on payday, rather than to be idle.

This bill is evidently for the purpose of helping the laboring man as many other bills are that are introduced in this House from time to time. With this purpose, I am in full sympathy, but I fear sometimes that the Representatives of the people forget that where there are employees there must be employers. And I believe it is our duty to consider the interests of both.

I want to warn you that the ever increasing tax burden, regulation and interference in business, is becoming so heavy that industry is almost at the breaking point. Many or our industries have closed their doors permanently. Many others may do likewise and if you force them to close, force them into bankruptcy or drive them out of the State—you are killing the goose, which, although it has gone off the gold standard may be needed some day.

Let us be careful and kill all bills that if enacted into law would endanger our crippled industries, for we need them.

I consider the bill before us as one of these. therefore, I urge the members of this House to vote this bill down.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this measure sponsored by the gentleman from Berks, who now seems to be the accredited leader of the majority faction in this House, is an extremely crudely drawn measure. This is a measure which would penalize the honest employer who has had an honorable record for years and who for some reason beyond his control was temporarily unable to meet his pay roll in full. This measure is dedicated apparently to the socialist conception that all workmen are inherently noble and that all employers are inherently rascals. The members of this House know that the recent woes visited upon the workmen have certainly been reflected upon the employers in this state. All over the Commonwealth there are employers who have contributed of their private means, who have depleted their own resources in order to keep their organizations together and in order to pay a partial wage, and this bill says that men who make sacrifices of that kind are rascals and should be put in jail.

Of all the measures that the leaders of the majority faction have presented to the Legislature in my memory or knowledge, this is the most crudely drawn and the most widely socialistic in its concept.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe that this bill should be defeated for one very striking reason; that is, it extends the service of the Commonwealth far beyond reasonable limitations.

If the members of the House will turn to page 5 of this measure and read section 9, they will there find a new idea in the administration of public affairs so far as concerns this Commonwealth, because under that section the Commonwealth may become the assignee of a claim of an employe for wages and may prosecute a suit against the employer and impose upon that employer costs in addition to reasonable attorney fees. As a lawyer, I know of no other instance in our general practice of the law, except in foreclosure of mortgages, where attorneys fees become taxable costs. There is one other instance that I know of, and that is in garnishee proceedings, but aside from that, it seems to me that the bill should be defeated, because it extends far beyond reasonable limitations the services of the Commonwealth.

Mr. T. J. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think that there is a necessity for a law of this kind. If you will turn to the majority report of the committee appointed to investigate the wages of children in industries in the state, you will find in that report, on page 10, that there was testimony presented to the committee covering cases where girls and boys have been unable to collect large accumulations of unpaid wages, sometimes because of the employers insolvency and sometimes because of the actual absconding of the employer. The girls who were the victims of such situations were helpless, having neither the funds, the knowledge nor the aggressiveness necessary to assert their rights before legal tribunals.

"There was testimony presented to the Committee covering cases where girl employes had been unable to collect large accumulations of unpaid wages, sometimes because of employers' insolvency, sometimes because of actual absconding of employers. The girls who were the victims of such situations were usually helpless, having neither the funds, the knowledge, nor the aggressiveness necessary to assert their rights beforelegal tribunals. A law providing penalties in such cases, and enabling the Department of Labor and Industry to assist employes in the collection of unpaid wage claims exists in several states, notably in California, where it has proved highly efficient. It is said that under the California law that state has collected over a million dollars of unpaid wages a year, most of the claims being settled without resort to court action, and no fees of any kind being charged to the wage-earners. The proposed act for Pennsylvania is similar to the California statute.

Now, that is quoting from the report of the joint committee created by this House, and I see a necessity for a law of that kind, because before that committee there were numerous cases where employers failed to pay the wages of their employes. I hope the members of this House will support this legislation.

Mr. HEFFNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I surely agree with my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, that this bill should be defeated, and not for the reason alone stated by that gentleman.

We happen to have in our locality an industry employing some three hundred men and the checks are made up at Cleveland, Ohio. You will note on the first page of this act, it says, "shall become due and payable immediately upon the discharge of an employe." That is impossible in our community, and it would be impossible to comply with this bill for the reason that we do not have access to the checks payable

On the next page, page 2, at line 22, "Provided, however, that in cases of employment when the employes in said employments are boarded and lodged by the employer." That means that in the lumber camps of Central Pennsylvania, where we maintain and board our employes, that they do not need to be paid but once a month. Why should some folks have the advantage of this act and only pay once a month when others pay twice a month and deduct such board as is provided for in the agreement with the employes?

There is another portion of this bill that prohibits the deducting of anything that you might provide for your employes from their pay envelopes at the end of the month. That is on page 3, Section 4: "All wages payable from any employer to any employee shall be paid in current money of the United States or in valid and negotiable checks for the full amount of wages due without any deductions whatsoever, except such deductions as may be made pursuant to any agreement between the employer and any labor union of which the employe is a member for the checkup of dues by such employer out of wages."

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is surely a bad piece of legislation and I hope the members of this House will vote it down.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is no question but that there is some need in Pennsylvania for a law to enable attorneys to collect wages.

There are many, many cases today where employers escape without paying, and I have no doubt but what that has actuated my friend, Mr. Hoopes, in drafting this bill, but this bill as drawn is absolutely too broad and will defeat the purposes that the sponsor has in mind.

With these thoughts in mind, and for the purpose of accomplishing some good, Mr. Speaker, I move you that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Labor for the purpose of amendment.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, that on his motion that it would probably be necessary to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading in order to put it in proper form for amendment if the motion is agreed to.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have heard several speeches against this bill and only one in its favor.

I understand that on a motion to recommit I may discuss the merits of the bill.

Laws such as this are in force, not in Socialistic Commonwealths or Nations, but in States of the United States, such as California, Massachusetts, New York, and with certain modifications in a number of other States.

It is not an extremely radical piece of legislation. It is a law which is absolutely necessary in order to protect the workers of this Commonwealth. As a matter of fact, several sections of this act are the law at the present time, and have been since 1913. Those are the sections which at least two speakers against the bill have singled out as being particularly vicious. Now, while they have been on the books for twenty years, they do not seem to have done very much damage; as a matter of fact they do not seem to have done very much good either.

I do not have a very extensive law practice, but in the last two months I have had two cases that I want to describe briefly to the House.

In one case a small employer was employing from fifty to sixty girls in a canning factory, paying wages running from three to seven dollars a week, which he held back. Those small wages, mind you—until he owed those girls sums ranging from twenty to over two hundred dollars apiece, but they are supposed to take half of that each week for a period running nearly over a year in some instances.

Now, it is all very well to say that those girls can get a lawyer and bring a suit before an alderman, get a judgment and issue an execution, and thereby collect their money. Any one of us who have had any experience knows that that is not a practicable remedy. This is not a bill as my friend from Philadelphia has suggested, to enable lawyers to collect wages. This is a bill to enable workers to collect their own wages. I think I speak for most attorneys when I say they do not want to handle small wage claims. They are not desirable business. They entail far more work than the compensation that you can possibly receive justifies. It is necessary to provide a procedure that will make it practically possible for these workers to collect their wages, and that is the reason for these sections attacked by my friend from Philadelphia, sections 8 and 9, providing for action by the Secretary of Labor and Industry. This identical provision is in effect in California and has been for several years, and is working to the benefit of the workers of that state. It is necessary for some such sections to be provided, in order that the employers may be forced to pay wages. To merely say that some employers are poor, they are insolvent, they are broke, they are unable to pay is entirely to overlook the fate of employes who are unfortunate enough to have jobs with such employers. Some who have opposed the bills seem to think that an employer is doing a worker a very great favor in giving him a job, even though he does not pay him any wages. Personally I do not agree with those sentiments, and I think it is time for members of this House to consider the workers as well as the employers. Their interests are not being protected. We have plenty of statutes on the books to protect the employers. This bill gives the workers the means of getting something like justice in a practical way, in a way that will result in their collecting their wages. We have a statute on the books today which makes it a criminal offense not to pay obligations but that doesn't help the workers in most instances, and even if it did it would be a grossly expensive way of getting them from the employers viewpoint who have to bring an individual prosecution for each individual worker. In the particular case I have reference to there were fifty or sixty girls involved to whom there was owed, in some instances, as much as $200, running not over a period of a few months but over a year. If each one of those brought prosecutions and the case was held for court and the one case was decided and the next brought up for fifty or seventy-five dollars, it would certainly be a very expensive proceeding for the employer. The machinery we have incorporated in this bill provides for an effective means of collection by the Secretary of Labor and Industry, authorizes the assignment to the Secretary of claims for wages for the purpose of collection.

This is an effective measure. In California it has been shown that the great percentage of employers pay as soon as they get a letter from the public official, but they are not worried by suits for damages from their own employes. As a matter of fact if one of the employes were to bring suit, what would happen would be that she would probably be fired. An axe would be held over her head all the time. In order to prevent them from bringing any kind of action they say "if you bring suit, we will fire you and you will never be paid." This act provides machinery where all the workers can join together and assign their claims to the Secretary, and it would not be so easy for the employer to evade payment as it would be if one or two of the bolder ones would have the courage to bring action in their own names.

Another instance which I have had come into my office in the past few months was the case of a manager of a show who came into Reading with some fifteen or twenty girls. The show was there about four weeks and then he refused to pay them any wages. He didn't own anything in Pennsylvania whatever and there wasn't any effective remedy to compel him to pay those wages. Had the Secretary of Labor and Industry the power which that bill gives to that official, he could have taken steps upon the issuance of the warrant and that manager could have obtained sufficient money from New York or wherever his office happened to be to pay those employes. As it was he didn't pay them and they were sunk.

Now, that sort of thing must be stopped. This is one of those measures which is necessary. It is not a socialistic bill. It has been introduced at the request of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor. They have found numerous instances where such action was necessary.

Mr. DENNING. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman addressing the House a member of the American Federation of Labor?

The SPEAKER. The Chair believes and so rules that the question is out of order.

Mr. DENNING. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, since the gentleman from Philadelphia has asked the question, I think I have a right to answer it, and I will say that I do carry a card in the American Federation of Teachers which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not think that any answer is necessary.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, coming back to the bill itself, I want to say that its provisions are reasonable. It provides that in the case of an employe quitting, he must give seventy-two hours notice before he is entitled to receive his pay, and certainly an employer should be able to raise what he owes an employe within seventy-two hours. If he is discharged, he is entitled to be paid immediately, and certainly he should be. An employer should not have the right to fire an employe and refuse to pay him what he has earned.

The bill properly protects employers as well as employes. It is necessary to meet a very serious situation which has developed in this Commonwealth. It is the sort of law which is enforced in other states, and has been found to be effective and not unduly burdensome upon employers.

I, therefore, ask the members of this House to vote against the motion to reconsider and to pass this bill finally today, so that it may go to the Senate and at least have a chance of receiving consideration in that body. It is time that we consider the interests of the employes and workers in this state as well as the interest of the employers.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HOOPES. Will the Speaker kindly state the motion and the effect of an aye vote.

The SPEAKER. The motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, is that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered. A vote of aye is to sustain the motion and a vote of no is to reject the motion. The status of the situation, the Chair will explain further would be this: If the motion carries, then the motion recurs as made by the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Sowers, that this bill be recommitted to the Committee.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker to save time, I will withdraw the motion.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

QUESTION OF CONSTITUTIONALITY RAISED

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not wish to delay this matter, but I think before the vote is taken, it might be well to call the attention of the members of the House to the provisions of the Pennsylvania Constitution.

Article III, section 7, provides specifically that the General Assembly shall not pass any legal or special law which has the effect of changing or providing different methods for the collection of debts. Those members of the House who are of the legal profession will recall the mechanics liens act of 1901, that its provisions have repeatedly been declared unconstitutional as setting up a different method for the collection of a debt than is provided for prior to the Constitution of 1874, and therefore, I submit that the provisions of section 9 of this proposed act are unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. Does the Chair understand that the gentleman from Franklin raises the question of the constitutionality of the bill in question.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of rule 36 of this House, it is provided that no committee, either standing or select shall report any bill for the action of the House, the passage of which is prohibited by the terms of the Constitution which I have just read, and I, therefore, raise that question.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that any question affecting the Constitutionality of a bill is for the House itself to determine and not for the Speaker to decide.

This principle is supporting by uniform rulings of Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, which will be found in Hinds Precedents, Vol. 2, and Vol. 5.

Speaker Alter, in 1913 Legislative Journal, page 1301 and 1302, when a point of order was raised on the constitutionality of a bill, stated that "It is a question which ought to be debated by the lawyers of the House, and the only way a question of order can be debated is for the Chair to submit it to the house," which he did.

Cooley's Constitutional Limitations, Vol. 1, Chap. 4, page 99, says, "The decisions for the construction of the Constitution must be made by the body upon whom the duty is imposed, or from whom the act is required."

Rule 4 of this House gives the Speaker the authority to submit the question to the House, which he does.

On the question,

Will the House declare the bill to be constitutional?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, very briefly I call attention to the fact that this Legislature in 1919 passed a so-called bad check act, which provides a method of collecting checks, to see what they are paid, and it was not in effect at the time the Constitution of 1874 was adopted. The courts of Pennsylvania have upheld that act. It is still on the statute books and has been used for the last fourteen years.

It is very peculiar that whenever you bring a bill in to protect the workers that this particular objection should be raised. It would sometimes seem that our Constitution was made to protect the vested interests against the rights of the workers of this State, and I don't believe in this instance that the particular section quoted does forbid the provisions of this act, and I ask the House to over rule the objection on that ground and to decide that the bill is constitutional and pass it.

On the question recurring.

Will the House declare the bill to be constitutional?

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will call the roll.

The Clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, will the Chair call the attention of the House to what a vote aye means and what a vote no means?

The SPEAKER. The Chair thought he had made that very clear, however, does the gentleman desire the roll to be cancelled for the benefit of the members that have not already voted.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have it explained at this time.

The SPEAKER. Due to the fact that we are in the midst of a roll call does the gentleman desire the roll declared null and void and proceed with a new roll after the explanation has been made?

Mr. HUTTON. I would suggest that, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. If that is the case, the roll will be declared null and void and the question before the House is the question of the constitutionality of House Bill No. 135. A vote of aye is an expression on the part of the members that the bill is constitutional. A vote no is an expression on the part of the members that the bill is unconstitutional. Does that satisfy the gentleman from Franklin?

Mr. HUTTON. It does, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. Speaker, if this body decides that it is unconstitutional, then I want to know what is to become of the bill. Would it be submitted to our vote, and does it mean that this body sitting here is to act in a judicial capacity and attempt to settle a piece of legislation? I know what the Speaker has said, but are we to sit here and declare that this act is constitutional or unconstitutional? If that be true, then what will we do with the bill after this matter is taken care of? Will it be submitted to our vote? Certainly there is something wrong. Are those of us sitting here to say whether it is constitutional or whether it is not constitutional?

The SPEAKER. In answer to the gentleman from Indiana, the Chair desires to state, that if the majority vote is recorded in the negative this body has gone on record officially that the bill is not constitutional, and, therefore, by its expression states, and naturally, that it will be impossible for this body to vote on a bill that is unconstitutional, and, therefore, the bill would be dead.

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that we are going on record officially? Are we not going on record in-dicially and are we not as a legislative body going beyond our jurisdiction?

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman that this would not become a judicial question until it became a law, and this body has the power to decide on legislation.

On the question recurring,

Will the House declare the bill to be constitutional?

The roll was called and was as follows:

PRESENT—4

Bechtel,	Peelor,	Sterling, P.,	Tahl,

So the question was determined in the negative and the bill was declared to be unconstitutional.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. I am not convinced that House Bill No. 117, Printer's No. 135, Page 10, calendar of December 13, 1933 is unconstitutional and therefore will not vote to declare it unconstitutional. I have already spoken against and advocated the defeat of the measure for reasons which reach to its merits. If the constitutionality of the measure is sustained by the House and it is considered on final passage I will vote against it, for the reasons stated in my previous remarks when the bill was last before the House on final passage.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 5, entitled:

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—2

Rice,	Wilson, T. B.,	Wood,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 145, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section eighteen article three of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That section eighteen of article three of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 18 No appropriations shall be made for charitable educational or benevolent purposes to any person or community nor to any denominational or sectarian institution corporation or association Provided That appropriations may be made for pensions or gratuities for military services and to blind persons twenty-one years of age and upwards and for assistance to mothers having dependent children and to aged persons without adequate means of support

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend sec. 1, page 2, lines 4 and 5, by striking out the words "and for assistance to mothers having dependent children"

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask permission to make a statement with reference to this amendment at this time, stating the purpose of it.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am offering an amendment to this proposed amendment to the Constitution, which would take out of it mothers assistance. I might say to the members of the House that I submitted this amendment to the lady from Berks, Mrs. Wilson, asking her whether she would consent to the placing of this amendment in the bill and she refused to consent.

My purpose is this: As you know, we have had mothers assistance and appropriations for mothers assistance for a number of years in Pennsylvania. It is doing a wonderful work and a work that is needed at this time.

The Constitutionality of the appropriations to the mothers assistance have never been questioned. I doubt whether they will ever be questioned. The only question at the present time is that we have not enough money to give for this splendid purpose in Pennsylvania. And now, this amendment couples old age pensions and mothers assistance. It would have to be passed by another session of the legislature and the earliest period that it could come for a vote would be in 1938. We cannot now forecast what the attitude of the people of Pennsylvania may be on either of these questions at that time, but should the people of Pennsylvania be opposed at that time to either old age pensions or the grants for mothers assistance, or both at that time, it would place mothers assistance in jeopardy and we might have the case arise in Pennsylvania where by vote of the people they would be wiped out. It seems to me that it is unfair to the voters in Pennsylvania, who are to approach the polls, in 1938 to have to decide both of these questions in one vote, as I am also advised that there is some question as to the constitutionality of placing two problems of this kind in one amendment for the people to vote upon. I am not, however, raising that question now. I am merely asking that you insert this amendment removing mothers assistance, removing it from the danger or the jeopardy in which it might be placed by reason of the conditions that may arise that we cannot now forsee and I think those who are interested in mothers assistance and those who are interested in old age pensions should allow the old age pension question to stand on its own bottom, because mothers assistance is not now in question.

Mrs. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill, House Bill No. 145, is the companion bill to the measure which has already been passed House Bill No. 144.

The men and women of this assembly who are in favor of pensions for the aged, who will be expected to vote upon this bill in a very short time must, if they vote against the measure or vote rather to amend the measure as Mr. Turner has proposed vote against mothers assistance. I want it to be made clear at this time that if you are in favor of mothers assistance as well as old age pensions you will support this measure as it appears on the calendar and you will vote down the amendments.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, is it proper for me to ask for permission to interrogate the lady from Berks on another point in this bill?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would be of the question that this would not be a proper time for interrogation and so rules.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House before a vote is taken on this measure we ought to seriously and very deliberately consider what we are going to do; what is the possibility. I suppose in all legislative bodies there is a certain amount of suspicion in the minds of all of the body about certain things that are done by others. Some wise philosopher said that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, and suspicion is the father of security, but that is not a very noble way of playing the game even in a legislative body.

As Mr. Turner has said, mothers assistance has worked in this state, bringing blessings, joy, happiness and comfort too great for me to try to enumerate. We are voting on a piece of legislation that will give the people of this state the privilege of amending the Constitution to make possible old age pensions; that is primary. This has nothing to do whatever with the mothers assistance fund, which is already in operation, and if they are both linked together to be voted upon by the people of this state and the voters should see fit to register their opposition, then this sacred, beautiful humanitarian measure that has never been questioned constitutionally, the mothers assistance fund, will go down as a result of the vote. I ask you in behalf of the thousands of mothers who have maintained their children under their own roof because of this splendid legislation of the mothers assistance fund with which I have been in touch since its existence and creation in Philadelphia, I do say to you seriously that it is neither politics nor party, nothing but sheer humanitarianism and the love that every one of you should have for fatherless children that are maintained within their own homes under the guidance of a mother, and God or man never instituted any institution to care for children that comes nearer the measure of satisfaction than is given in the little home that is clean, decent and honest.

I am asking you, my friends and fellow colleagues of this body to vote for the amendments of Mr. Turner that will protect the mothers assistance fund in case the voters of this state should turn down the enabling act when they vote for old age pensions. This is in behalf, not only of those who are beneficiaries, the numberless children of this state, but also in behalf of the numberless children in the future that will be the beneficiaries of this splendid piece of humanitarian legislation, the mothers assistance fund. I bespeak and ask your cooperation and vote in behalf of the amendments that have been submitted. I know by the way,—and indeed I am a stumbling and meager advocate to even mention it—I personally know the causes and the motives that are in the heart and mind of Mr. Turner in offering these amendments, and I know that they are just exactly the motives and the inspiration and the feeling and the consideration that I have given utterance to here, regard for the mothers and orphans in this state that are now coming under the consoling shelter and influence and support of the mothers assistance fund. I ask you to support Mr. Turner's amendments outside of politics or party, but because it is a precautionary measure, absolutely honest. If we are sincere and if we are honestly in back of the mothers assistance fund, let us vote for this amendment that will protect that fund in the future.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not want to go into the motives back of these particular amendments, but I do want to answer the very specious arguments that have been advanced in their favor. That there is no necessity for an amendment to the Constitution to protect the mothers assistance fund; that may or may not be true. The fact remains that the people who are most heartily for mothers assistance, those who are in charge of the mothers assistance movements in Pennsylvania want this amendment in the form in which it is, and came to the sponsors of the old age amendments and begged that it be put in in order to make sure that the mothers assistance fund would be protected. Now they say that isn't necessary, and then they turn around and in the next breath they say that if this amendment is defeated you will defeat mothers assistance. I cannot believe that. If it is not necessary defeating this amendment certainly will leave the thing just as it now is and it will have no effect whatever upon mothers assistance. The only chance that a vote against the amendment would hurt mothers assistance would be in case the mothers assistance required amendment in order to be constitutional, in case somebody would raise the question, and those who have mothers assistance most at heart in this Commonwealth and have charge of its administration fear that this question may at some time be raised and it is in order to meet that possibility that we have been asked that this bill be put in the form that it is. It seems to me that it is merely a scheme to defeat old age pensions once more, to delay action until such time that it will be impossible to get it passed in this assembly and yet have some way of doing it without going on record on the question directly. I think that the time has come to vote on it. I have no doubt whatever what the attitude of the people of Pennsylvania will be on old age pensions, not for one minute. I have no doubt that if the Senate had adopted this amendment last May, the people of Pennsylvania would have adopted old age pensions and mothers assistance at the election of November 7th, but we did not give them the chance, and here was are trying to find more excuses for not giving them the chance again. I say it is time to face this issue and face it squarely. Let us put an amendment up that the advocates of old age pensions and the advocates of mothers assistance both want and let the people decide on it. I have no fear as to how they will decide. They will vote for the amendment.

Oh, they raise the objection that it may possibly be unconstitutional. I have never heard of that objection before. Certainly we can submit an amendment to the people of Pennsylvania changing any particular section of the constitution in any way that we propose to have it read, and if it is passed by two legislatures and the people of Pennsylvania adopt it, it will then become a part of the constitution, and if it is unconstitutional according to some other part the other part will have to go out, because that will be the amendment which the people said they want in the constitution. I don't think there is a particle of doubt but that we can amend the constitution by changing any section to read any way you want it to read, or by leaving a section out of the constitution entirely or by putting in an entirely new section if you want to do so, and to argue that by putting up two things that are alike, such as old age pensions and mothers assistance, you will endanger the whole thing is merely to my mind a specious argument and method of trying to defeat old age pensions once more. I want to call the attention of this House to the fact that those who oppose this vote on old age pensions have opposed old age pensions every time it came up on the floor of the House. Now, let us face the issue, let us vote on it, let us get the benefits of both old age pensions and mothers assistance, which is what the people want; let us adopt this measure as it is and vote down these amendments of the gentleman from Delaware.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the mothers assistance end this amendment is being used as a very distinguished citizen of the Commonwealth used the hospitals and institutions of learning on the twenty-five million dollar bond issue to carry the bond issue through.

This mothers assistance is in no danger, there is no trouble about it. We can make whatever appropriations we want, and we never have any trouble, and it is put in this amendment very skillfully as the colleges and hospitals were put in the twenty-five million bond issue, to let them in edgeways, and to write mothers assistance in with old age pensions and for no other reason.

Now, there is no possibility of voting on this until 1938,—until after 1938. There is no terrible hurry. There are going to be two other regular sessions of the legislature in 1935 and 1937. Why in the closing days of the special session should anybody get on the floor and weep crocodile tears about mothers assistance and get an old age amendment to the constitution when they are not separate. There are many people in this Commonwealth who might be for mothers assistance and might not be for old age pensions and they might want to vote for one and not vote for the other, and it is poor legislation—I don't know that this will appeal to the House with the stuff we have on this calendar—but I don't suppose it is appropriate to say this is poor legislation, because all we have to do is to say it is social legislation, and nobody would dare raise their voice against it. I say, ladies and gentlemen of this House, that it is poor legislation to put these two things in a constitutional amendment and force people who are for mothers assistance to vote for something they don't want and not be able to vote for mothers assistance. Now, it raises a doubt as to mothers assistance by the fact that the legislature passes a constitutional amendment for it. As the gentleman from Delaware has very well said, it has never been questioned and never will be questioned, and I make this statement on this floor, that any member of this House can draw a constitutional amendment provision bill, ask unanimous consent to have it pass through this House and get it and it will go through the House and Senate of Pennsylvania without a dissenting voice—a bill to give mothers assistance. There wont be a vote against a constitutional amendment for mothers assistance, not one and the people of Pennsylvania would overwhelmingly pass it, but the lady from Berks is combining these for the purpose, not of mothers assistance, but for the purpose of strengthening her old age pension amendment. I think it is poor legislation and it should be taken out and put in an amendment by itself.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there objection?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 142, entitled:

An Act to amend section four of the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 1024), entitled 'An act to protect the public health and welfare, by regulating the employment of females in certain establishments, with respect to their hours of labor and the conditions of their employment; by establishing certain santiary regulations in the establishments in which they work; by requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted; by providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and others; by prescribing penalties for violations thereof; by defining the procedure in prosecutions; and by repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions thereof," prohibiting the employment of females in foundries.

On the question,

With the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, before the roll call is proceeded with, it seems to me that every member of the House should turn to page 2, lines 26 and 27 of this measure and read what it purports to say.

Now Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the lines to which I want to call your attention seek to amend the existing law by providing that no female shall be employed or permitted to work in any foundry. There isn't a man or woman in this House that would encourage female labor in foundries, but if you will read the lines immediately preceeding this amendment you will find that the draftsman of the existing law took proper precaution when he wrote into it the following language: "Provided this section shall not apply to managers, superintendents and persons doing clerical or stenographic work," which brings me to the point of the case. If this House passes the bill as presently written you will write out of employment every female engaged in clerical or stenographic work in foundries. I leave the case to you.

Mrs. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am opposed to this bill because it unnecessarily discriminates against employment of women. There is no logical reason why women should not be employed in foundries where a particular occupation does not involve hazard to health or welfare.

The employment of women in foundries at particular occupations which involve undue strain in lifting or handling heavy weights has been prohibited through regulations promulgated by the Advisory Board of the Department of Labor and Industry.

The amending of the Women's Law in so drastic a respect should not be considered unless there is ample evidence to show the employment of women in foundries is definitely prejudicial to their health or welfare. Such evidence would be difficult to produce.

If this bill passes and women are prohibited from working in foundries, where are they to go? will they be provided with easy work or will they be forced to compete with thousands of other women on an overcrowded labor market. Will they be compelled to sell their bodies for bread on the streets of our cities.

Women do not work in foundries from choice. They work there, as in other disagreeable, back breaking, nerve racking industries, because under our system of industry the husbands and fathers do not receive a sufficient wage to provide for their families and women are compelled to work. Until such a time as these conditions are remedied and men may provide well for their families, it is foolish to prohibit women from working in foundries or industries of a similar character.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 138, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (e) of section three hundred and six of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" by permitting the extension of time for hospitalization to ninety days at the option of the employer or insurer and fixing the date when this act becomes effective

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RUTH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Berks please explain the advantages of this bill.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to the interrogation, under the present law the insurance funds whether paid by the state or private funds may only pay thirty days hospitalization, and if there is anything more than thirty days it is taken out of the surplus fund and the fund cannot be reimbursed. We have many instances where workmen have been injured and have been in hospitals for two or three months and the hospitals had to lose the money above the thirty days because these workmen were not able to pay their bills. Under this bill the insurers or employers by giving permission the fund may pay up to ninety instead of thirty days but beyond the thirty day limit they must have the permission of the insurer or the employer. I spoke to the Director of Workmens Compensation Insurance and he suggested that this would be a remedy whereby the fund could be reimbursed for anything that is paid over the thirty day limit with the consent of the insurer or employer.

Mr. JOHN M. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to call attention to the fact that this makes it optional on the part of the employer or insurer to pay certain medical and surgical benefits beyond the ninety day period provided by law. Now, then, Mr. Speaker, there is a situation presented where there is bound to be an argument. As between the insurance carrier and the employer, with the injured working man having nothing whatever to say. He gets no benefits from this bill. It simply is a bill that provides that if the employer and insurance carrier can agree that the doctors and the hospitals will get more money than is now provided by law, but the injured working man is not consulted and has no say in the matter and has no benefits. I believe this bill should be voted down.

There is no way that an insurance carrier could insure such a person. He wouldn't know whether he was paying thirty days benefits or ninety days benefits.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not know who is responsible for this bill, but it appears to me that with the private insurance companies where you have a case of a working man being injured and additional hospitalization necessary it might result in the worker going back to the industry at a quicker period of time with a smaller loss to the industry and a smaller loss to the worker and a smaller loss to the insurer. By buying private insurance you can readily get the insurers to agree under the present law that the man will remain in the hospital for a longer length of time for medical treatment, but under the state workmens insurance fund, they find themselves regulated by the statute which we have in vogue and where they adhere to it very strictly, I think you would find it very difficult to go to the state workmens insurance and even though it should be reasonable to request it.

It might be that additional hospitalization and additional medical care might make a smaller loss to the state workmens insurance fund or the insurance carrier; nevertheless under existing statutes, the state workmens insurance fund would not be able to meet the request of the injured employer or the hospital in giving the employe additional hospitalization, and I think that this act is presented primarily to allow the state workmens insurance fund to do the reasonable thing, the very thing that is being done by private insurance companies now, and I think it should be passed.

Mr. JOHN M. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, all insurance carriers of repute are extending benefits beyond the thirty day period. There is nothing in the present law that prevents them from doing that, and I say again that this only makes a dispute between the employer and the insurance carrier and it creates a condition where the actuaries cannot compute the matter of benefits to be given. It is an impossible situation.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I was informed by the Director of Workmens Insurance Fund of the State of a case he had under advisement at a certain hospital where two men fell from a roof they were painting and they were injured, which required them to be in the hospital for at least ninety days or more. Now the workmens insurance fund of the state may not pay one day over the first thirty days hospitalization; that is the present law. If there is anything additional granted it has to come out of the surplus fund, and the fund cannot be reimbursed. The director suggests that in a case of this nature where they were allowed to add to their experience rates, the rates on the insurance policies are figured on the experience gone by, and in this way they may figure on their experience rate by the consent of the insurer or employer and I feel that we should pass this bill, and see whether it won't work out to the advantage of the working man.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, not that I desire to tarry the progress of this House, but I think I can speak with a great deal of practical experience on the question of rendering service beyond the thirty day limit. The statement made by the gentleman from Berks is true. Your present workmens insurance fund is not permitted to extend this privilege to employes who are injured and who of necessity need hospitalization beyond the thirty day period. In so doing they have to apply to the board of directors whom the certification must come through, and if that is not done the Hospital that has rendered the service to the individual takes that charge upon its own back without collecting a cent for the services rendered.

I want to say a word in behalf of the private insurers, who is in the position Mr. Flynn has stated. I am sure the insurance carrier plays the game on the square with a man that he protects for the employer.

He by a written notification which notification to the hospital and the doctor in attendance sets forth the fact and renders service to that individual until the injured man is able to leave the institution and return to his work. In this bill I can see the object that Mr. Ruth has in mind, and I think it only provides as far as the State of Pennsylvania workmens insurance fund is carried, because as it is now it is a dilly dally procedure and the hospitals are the ones who have to carry the load and it ought to be amended so that it applies to the state workmens insurance fund only, because the private insurance carriers have the right to grant that without any question, and my experience with real insurance carriers is that they are gentlemen in action and they render and they tell the hospital and the doctor to render such services as are best for that individual and this legislation is absolutely not necessary when it applies to private carriers. I think Mr. Ruth has just one thing in mind, to take away the barrier that prevents the workmens insurance fund from granting this service, and I say that the bill should be amended to include only the state workmens insurance fund. I think with its present language the act, in all fairness to the men who carry the insurance in Pennsylvania, should be amended. Much as I am interested in hospitals in this state and in the medical profession, I say that this is one bill that certainly should not be passed, because there is no way in which the insurers can regulate the cost of the insurance. They must regulate the cost through the actuary in the payment of the policy, and I think Mr. Ruth should offer an amendment limiting it simply to the state workmens insurance fund in the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would be very glad to offer an amendment in the Senate, but I cannot guarantee that they will put it in.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. JOHN M. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Insurance for the purpose of amendment.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been informed that this bill is on final passage and is ready for a roll call. Is it the desire to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE

Mr. JOHN M. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I cannot see the logic of the motion of the gentleman from Elk, or Mr. Steedle's argument. They both maintain that private insurance carriers are doing this very thing now. Now if the private insurers are doing this very thing, apparently there is no skin off the private insurers nose if this bill be passed. The only thing is that we make it possible for the state workmens fund to do the very thing that the private insurers are doing. So I can't see the necessity of limiting this bill purely to the state workmens insurance fund. If the gentleman from Elk or the gentleman from Allegheny, can explain to this House where the private insurers are going to be put to a disadvantage, I could see the possibility that there might be some foundation to their arguments, but they admit that the private insurers are doing this very thing and they won't be hurt by the passage of this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. JOHN M. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Insurance for the purpose of amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, one hundred and four members voting in the affirmative and sixty in the negative the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 21, entitled:

An Act relating to labor; declaring the policy of the Commonwealth as to the hours of, and prohibiting the employment of persons for more than six hours in any one day, or for more than thirty hours in any one week; providing for overtime employment and attaching penalties thereto, and providing penalties for violations hereof.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill now before you is an exceedingly important one to defeat. It provides that after its enactment into law it shall be a crime to employ labor for more than six hours a day or more than thirty hours in a week.

If the measure that is presented to this Assembly is a means for a more equitable distribution of labor, one might, although even then, speciously say that it will be equitable to all labor, it would be different, but I call your attention particularly to the language of the first page of the bill, Printer's No. 110, where it appears in plain language that the premise upon which the measure is presented to the House for consideration is that of employment for more than six hours a day or more than thirty hours a week is inconsistent with good health and good physical being, and that it would not promote the general welfare of the employe or laborer, but would tend to decrease his usefulness. I do believe that "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy", but I do also believe that if this measure was enacted into law, it would make playboys of us all. It seems to me that the House would do well by expressing indubitably its disapproval of this measure.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to call the attention of the House to some of the radical departures in this bill from existing legislation regarding hours of labor. We have an exemption for a number of industries, industries which are very essential. For instance, this bill does not exempt the farmer from the operation of a six hour day. It does not exempt those in domestic service, those in charitable institutions, those engaged in hospitals or institutions of education.

I wish to repeat that under the existing law the farmers are exempt from the workers' laws, both National and State. Under the National Recovery Act there is an exemption for farmers and allied industries from its operation, and the Pennsylvania law exempts those who are employed in charitable institutions and in educational institutions, but under this act there is no exemption whatever except on page 2 of this bill, you find this provision in the bill, lines 19 and 20, "Except watchmen and employes when engaged in making necessary repairs, or in cases of emergency where life or property is in imminent danger." Those who come from the rural sections, and especially those engaged in agriculture, know how important it is at certain times for those engaged in those industries to work overtime. This measure is of great importance to the people employed in outside activities, and there are thousands of them in employment on the highways and in construction work, and in case of inclement weather at the beginning of the week, they may only have six hours employment during the entire week. I do not believe that the working men of this State desire this legislation. I don't believe there is an actual desire on the part of the working men of Pennsylvania for this legislation. We now have a National Recovery Act which takes care of the hours of employment and exempts certain industries, and for that reason I believe it would be well for us to give that proposition a trial before we embark on new and uncharted seas.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Griffith,

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 207, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-fifth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirteen (Pamphlet Laws, one thousand twenty-four) entitled "An act to protect the public health and welfare, by regulating the employment of females in certain establishments, with respect to their hours of labor and the conditions of their employment; by establishing certain sanitary regulations in the establishments in which they work; by requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted; by providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and others; by prescribing penalties for violations thereof; by defining the procedure in prosecutions; and by repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions thereof," by excepting from the provisions of the act domestic service in private homes and further regulating the hours of labor.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDERER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill provides for a forty-four week. At the present time, as you know, we are working under the National Recovery Act a total of 40 hours a week. To be consistent, I voted for the Child Labor Act the other day, because it was national in character. I think that all acts of this kind should be established by Congress. If this act passes, you will put Pennsylvania in a position where after the National Recovery Act is no longer in effect, our industries will not be able to compete with the industries of other States, where they work possibly longer hours. I think this bill should be voted down.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, during the last session I introduced a resolution here in the House embodying the principles of this bill, and it was passed unanimously by the House. This bill is setting a minimum where they won't work any greater hours after this experiment of the National Recovery Act is over. It seems to me that the day has come when there is no excuse for working more time than this bill specifies, with the improved and modern machinery that we have today to do the work, or that if we would ever require women and children to work more than this, is looking backward, and it is not keeping apace with the time. I think we are perfectly safe in voting aye on this measure at this time, and I would ask every member of the House to support this bill in conjunction with the support they gave it at the last session.

Mr. O'ROURKE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I omit the ladies because I feel that they will take care of the situation themselves without being addressed.

This bill is more or less an amendment to the act of 1915, Pamphlet Laws 1024, reducing the working hours from fifty-four to forty-four. Recently the majority of the laboring class have had their working hours cut down very materially, but I don't think that men should stand up and say "our sister workers should work longer hours than we men." All that the girls ask of you, and all I ask of you is to give our sister worker a break. Have the intestinal courage to give them a vote to put this bill over. Thank you.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is for a forty-four hour week. The idea of having thousands of men walking the streets unemployed and insisting that women should work fifty to fifty-four hours a week, those who are lucky enough to have jobs is something that I cannot understand.

When they raise the argument that when the National Recovery Act goes out, then we are going to be at a disadvange with the industries of other states, of course is the argument that has always been raised against any such labor bills and when they are met with a bill from Washington they are against that because they say it interferes with states rights. The fact is that they are against it regardless of how you try to do it. They want to go on exploiting women as they did in the days that are past. I say there is a time to call a halt to it, and let us call a halt to it in some degree at least by passing this measure and reducing the working hours of women at least from fifty-four to forty-four. The chief wrong with this bill is that it does not go far enough. Let us at least do this much, let us be modern enough to say that the women of this state shall not work more than forty-four hours a week when thousands of women are walking the streets totally unemployed, unable to find jobs of any kind. I ask you to vote "Aye" on this measure.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

REPLY TO QUESTION OF INFORMATION

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to answer the question of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, who requested the names of the members who had received leaves of absence. They are: Wheeler, Stevenson, Surface, Sinwell, Marcks, and Storb.

STATEMENT BY MR. ANDREWS

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a statement.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this House this afternoon by resolution commanded the presence of all of its members who had not received leaves of absence. The record of the roll call shows that from thirty-five to forty-five members are absent, doubtless unintentionally in contempt. The only way, Mr. Speaker, that the absent members can purge themselves of this unintentional contempt would seem to me to be by being present at the initial roll call in the morning.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of Parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. ANDREWS. I ask, Mr. Speaker, as a question of parliamentary inquiry whether it will be proper tomorrow morning to ask for a roll call when the House convenes, for the purpose of ascertaining how many members unintentionally absent this afternoon and so in contempt have purged themselves of contempt.

The SPEAKER. It is the opinion of the Chair that due to the fact that this body went on record this afternoon as demanding the presence on the part of the members, unless they were excused for specific purposes, that the gentleman could request a roll call in the morning.

REPLY TO PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The SPEAKER. As to the parliamentary inquiry of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Malina, the Chair directs his attention to the Legislative Journal of Tuesday, November 21, 1933, and by referring to page 133, he will find that his remarks under the question of personal privilege are recorded in the Journal.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 22. Printer's No. 144.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 13, 1933.

Whereas There are many school districts within the Commonwealth that are far in arrears in the payment of salaries to school teachers and

Whereas These school teachers have remained at their posts carrying on their professions for the benefit of the youth of this Commonwealth giving of their knowledge and ability for the general welfare relying only upon their faith in the responsibility of the Commonwealth and their school districts for the final payment of the remuneration due them for their services and necessary for their sustenance and

Whereas House Bill Number seventy-four already passed upon finally by this House makes an appropriation of $5,000,000 for the purposes of furnishing aid to financially handicapped and distressed school districts in such manner as the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall determine therefore be it

Resolved That it is the opinion of this House that payment from such appropriation should first be made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to such school districts as are in arrears in the payment of salaries to teachers by reason of inability to collect taxes to the end that they receive the just compensation due for their services and for their unselfish adherence to duty and be it further

Whereas, Many days have elapsed since a Federal Jury convicted Eugene F White Chief Clerk of Assembly of grave offenses against the laws of this Nation and

Whereas Ample time and opportunity have been afforded him to tender his resignation to the General Assembly and

Whereas It would appear that the continued enjoyment by him of the honors and emoluments of the office of Chief Clerk of this Assembly would tend to reflect upon this Assembly in the minds of the people of the State of Pennsylvania and would tend to subject this Assembly to the criticism of all right-thinking people

Now Be It Resolved That the said Eugene F White be called upon to tender his resignation as Chief Clerk of this body and that in the event of his failure so to do immediately upon the transmission of this Resolution to him the said office be declared vacant and this body proceed to the election of a successor

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 56,

An act to amend sections one thousand seven hundred and seventy-six two thousand one hundred and twelve and two thousand one hundred and forty-one of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws five hundred nineteen) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising and amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" lengthening the time for which assessment bonds for street and sewer improvements may be issued regulating notice where sewer-works are constructed without the limits of a borough.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

URGING USE OF TAR ON PENNSYLVANIA HIGHWAYS

Mr. SPANN offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 14, 1933.

Resolved, That since the use of road tar creates employment in the mines, on the railroads and in the steel mills of Pennsylvania, which produces one third of all the tar of the United States, and inasmuch as the value of road tar has been demonstrated in many years of service, The House of Representatives requests the Highway Department of Pennsylvania to give special consideration to the use of a larger proportion of tar in the construction and maintenance of roads on which bituminous materials are required.

STATEMENT BY MR. McCREARY

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a statement.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I voted "No" a few minutes ago on the resolution to adjourn today. I suppose may be you thought it rather strange. I have a wife at home, the same as you have, but I have got four bills in this committee and I would like to smoke them out.

The SPEAKER. What does the gentleman from Erie desire the Chair to do?

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I think I am justified in saying that those are the only four economy bills that have been introduced in the House this Extraordinary Session, and if they had allowed them to come out of the committee and pass this House and the Senate and become a law, they would have gone a long way to arrange for the one hundred million dollars that our friend, Mr. Andrews, says we are in arrears.

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman discussing the merits of his various bills or making a statement?

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I am making a statement and every word is the truth. I simply stated that if these four bills had gone on through and become law, I believed they would have in a large measure prepared the way to settle this one hundred million dollars that our friend, Mr. Andrews, said we passed appropriations for. Therefore, I think they should have been allowed to come out on the floor, and that is why I voted "No" to adjourn today. I would like to continue this session until those bills are out, but suppose that is impossible.

Now, may I just make this statement so that the members of this House will know what those bills were; four mill tax to compel all intangible values to be stamped whether or not that tax has been paid, and they would be non-intangibles unless they were. The reason for that is that my county is four hundred thousand dollars short on that tax every year and it should be assessed and collected. The other one was the stay of Sheriff's sales for one year until the Federal Home Loan law could be put into effect and save thousands of homes and farmers all over the state. The other one was the reduction in salaries in fourth class counties to bring the salaries down to a par with the income of the taxpayers who have to pay those salaries. The fourth one, House Bill No. 38, was to require every man who voted on a bond issue to be the owner of real estate or a freeholder. That is the law in England and has been ever since England was organized, and the laws of this country are largely founded on old English law, and that should become one of the laws of this state and nation

Now, members of the House, I want to acknowledge my appreciation of the fact that you passed House Bill No. 85, one of my bills, here yesterday. I would like now to ask one other favor of you. This bill is exactly the same kind of a bill that this House passed last session, which went over to the Senate and they amended it to take all the advantage out of it. The House refused to concur in those amendments and the bill fell. The same bill has now passed the House, and I request that if any of you members have any influence over in the Senate you use it for the benefit of this bill—not for me. The Senate is mad at me, I am told, because at the last session I said there were two hundred and seven members of the House and only fifty Senators and therefore the House knew four times as much as the Senate. If they get mad at me for a little thing like that, I will be sure that my conclusion was correct. It makes me think of one of the songs that we used to sing when we were kids: "Susie is mad, and I am glad, and I know what will please her. A bottle of wine, to make her shine, and some nice boy to squeeze her." The only thing I can't think of possibly is a nice boy that would want to squeeze the Senate. I could think of a nice boy that would want to choke it; and there is a great deal of difference between a choke and a squeeze.

I don't suppose, members of the House, there is any hope, if you are going to adjourn tonight, of getting the four bills out, and I don't suppose I will have an opportunity to introduce any more bills in this House, because I think that the record I have established up in Erie County will result in their electing a Democrat or a Socialist. They think you must be able to get things through, and I don't seem to be able to do that. The only result of the legislation up in Erie County was that this Legislature repealed the franchise of fifty-four thousand voters up there in a bill that went through this Legislature last year taking away from the voters the privilege of voting for Poor Directors and handing it over to the Courts of Quarter Sessions, and I am held responsible because I didn't stop it. You members of this House killed that bill the first time, but it came back the next day for reconsideration. The Senators' influence was sufficient to pass it and I think I took the results of it. Do you wonder I do not want to go back home until I get these other four bills out and passed? You would too.

I thank you, members of the House, for your patience.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to ask the gentleman a question. Does the gentleman from Erie, Mr. McCreary, believe that had the House remained in session until tomorrow his bills would have come out of committee?

Mr. McCREARY. I was advised, Mr. Speaker, that there was a chance for one of them to come out—not all four of them.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be noted in the Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. FLINCHBAUGH

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a statement.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker and members of this House, I want to report that I, by the command of the Speaker this morning, present the body of the Chairman of the Judiciary General Committee, the Honorable John McClure in good and whole condition.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McClure, will be marked present on the call of the House this morning.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the committee of one be discharged.

The SPEAKER. The committee is discharged with the thanks of the House

STATEMENT BY MR. JAMES E. LOVETT

Mr. JAMES E. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a statement.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. JAMES E. LOVETT. In regard to House Bill No. 142 which was defeated in the House yesterday, I think the members of this House deserve an explanation from me in regard to that bill.

The intent of the bill was not to prohibit stenographers and clerks and managers from working in foundries in the State of Pennsylvania. I learned from some of the older members of the House that the fault in the bill was very poor draftsmanship. Some members came and asked me if there were female workers working in foundries. They didn't seem to know. There is such female help in the foundries in the way of moulding and core making, etc. That was the real intent of the bill.

Now, while they say there are a large number of foundries that do not employ female help, there are others that do and this bill was presented in line with NRA because it was not fair competition to those who did not employ female labor.

I thank the members of the House.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be noted on the Journal.

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM AUDITOR GENERAL AND STATE TREASURER

Mr. DENNING offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 13, 1933.

Whereas, His Excellency, the Governor, has requested the Legislature to enact a number of bills which would cost the taxpayer of this Commonwealth millions of dollars; and

Whereas, Many of the Governor's proposals are worthy and perhaps necessary; and

Whereas, This Legislature is anxious and willing to do anything it can to help the unemployed, the needy, and the bankrupt communities and school districts of the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, No member of the Legislature knows how much money there is in the State Treasury today, or how much there will be any day from now until May 31, 1935, when the fiscal biennium ends; and

Whereas, the Legislature cannot logically and sensibly appropriate funds for definite purposes unless it knows how much money is available for such appropriations; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Auditor General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, be requested to submit to the House of Representatives in person, or by communication, information showing the present surplus balances of the general and all other State funds, and his estimate of revenues anticipated from liquor sales; and be it further

Resolved, That the State Treasurer be likewise requested to submit to this Legislature figures showing the present financial standing of the Commonwealth and his estimate of the revenue to be derived from liquor sales.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Auditor General and State Treasurer, by the acting Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. JOHN J. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 170, Printer's No. 157, entitled

An Act to authorize any County City Borough Township or other municipal sub-division of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to purchase construct maintain and operate bridges tunnels streets highways traffic distribution centers traffic circles airports hangars park-ways recreation grounds and facilities electric power stations and facilities water works systems reservoirs sewer systems sanitary disposal plants and facilities gas plants and facilities pipe lines and facilities public parks swimming pools lakes dams gas mains water mains transportation systems and parts of any of said projects and improvements thereof and additions thereto and to purchase lease maintain and operate other mechanical facilities equipments and appliances appropriate proper necessary or convenient in connection with the construction operation and use of such projects and to authorize any County City Borough Township or other municipal sub-division of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania now or hereafter owning and operating any such project to improve enlarge extend or repair the same and for any such purpose or purposes to authorize any such County City Borough Township or other municipal sub-division of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to issue revenue bonds payable solely from the revenues derived from the operation of any such projects to regulate the issuance sale retirement and refunding of such bonds and of other matters in connection therewith and to authorize any County City Borough Township or municipal sub-division of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to collect fees tolls rates rentals and charges in connection with any or all of said structures projects additions or improvements and any or all parts thereof to regulate the use of the revenues of such projects when such bonds are issued or outstanding to provide for the operation of any such project in case of deficiency in such revenues and for other purposes on page 6 of today's calendar, bills on second reading, be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Corporation for the purpose of further study and amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Williams.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN J. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Lackawanna if he has entered into any agreement with Mr. Kane to recommit this bill?

Mr. JOHN J. WILLIAMS. No sir. Mr. Speaker, I entered into an agreement with the sub-committee that they would report the bill out for second reading, with the understanding that it was to be sent back to the committee for study and amendment.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman realize that if the bill goes back to committee it will fail to pass due to the fact that we are to adjourn today?

Mr. JOHN J. WILLIAMS. Not necessarily so, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Are there any reasons why, Mr. Speaker, the bill cannot be amended on the floor if those amendments are necessary?

Mr. JOHN J. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, the bill has not been studied by the committee as yet. We thought by getting the bill out on second reading, it would help the bill that much faster. If we get it back to the committee we can possibly have the bill out again after the committee has passed upon it.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Is it not a fact that if this goes back into your committee that absolutely prevents it from becoming enacted into law?

Mr. JOHN J. WILLIAMS. Why so? It can be reported out on Monday night and then have a chance to go through by next Thursday.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a highly important bill and it is easy to see that the purpose for recommitting it is other than the motive given, and I would therefore ask the members to vote against recommittment of this bill.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I was not in my seat when this motion to recommit this bill was made, but in answer to the statement made by the Chairman of the Committee on Municipal Corporations, I will say that I do not know of any agreement that was made to recommit the bill.

This bill is a bill that intends to legalize what are known as revenue bonds for the purpose of borrowing money from the Federal Government for reconstruction purposes on self-liquidating projects. The bill was drafted hastily in order to get it registered in the House when the date set for closing the acceptance of bills was adopted. Many amendments have been made to the bill. We had intended to make them on second reading.

Since the bill has been reported out of committee there have been objections from various sections of the state, third and fourth class counties, and I agreed with some members to accept amendments confining them to second class counties, and I have no intention at this time to call the bill up, and I think that the Chairman of the Committee should at least have given me the consideration of being in my seat when he made the motion. I had intended to let the bill ride on the calendar until such time as further amendments could be prepared. I, therefore, ask the members of this House to give me the consideration of letting the bill ride on second reading until such time as we can prepare further amendments.

Mr. SHREINER. Mr. Speaker, being a member of the sub-committee that reported this bill out, it was our understanding that it would be recommitted after second reading.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, is it necessary to have strike-out amendments in writing, or can they be made orally?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is informed that it is necessary to have any amendments in writing.

Mr. COHEN. I was under the impression, Mr. Speaker, that amendments that were not to eliminate from the bill portions thereof need not be in writing.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman that for the official records amendments must be in writing.

The Chair may be able to clear up what is in the gentleman's mind. If amendments to strike out were offered in writing at this time on a bill before the House, the amendments would not affect the bill, and therefore would not affect its progress, but even then amendments must be submitted in writing for the official record.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask that the House pass over House Bill No. 228 (Senate Bill No. 42) until I have an opportunity to prepare the amendments.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, House Bill No. 228 will be passed over for the present. The Chairs hears none and the bill will be passed over for the present.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Hutton, please approach the rostrum and preside over the deliberations of the body?

MR. HUTTON IN THE CHAIR

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHORTZ. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHORTZ. Mr. Speaker, my name has been omitted on the roll call so consistently throughout this session that it is embarrassing to me to have to get up to see if I am recorded. My name has been omitted time after time. I have cautioned the reading clerk about it, but we have the same thing here today. I would like the reading clerk to be more careful. I want to be recorded on everything that comes up before this House.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be noted in the Journal, and the clerks will govern themselves accordingly.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. DeFREHN. Mr. Speaker, I vote "no" on House Bill No. 124, Printer's No. 155 amending an act approved the thirteenth day of May, 1915, entitled "An act to provide for the health, safety and welfare of minors" because it strikes out the provision that minors may not be employed in public bowling alleys nor in a pool or billiard room.

It is my belief that it is not for the welfare of boys to be employed in the positions named.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 98, entitled:

An Act to regulate commerce and prevent unfair competition defining fair prices prescribing remedies to uphold the same and providing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of this bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hough, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOUGH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask if the gentleman from Allegheny will state what he seeks to accomplish by the passage of this legislation.

Mr. HOUGH. This bill is similar in effect to House Bill No. 1233 that we had in the regular session. At that time it was voted down, but after being voted down the National Recovery Act came into existence, and into that National Recovery Act the President saw fit to draft a considerable portion of that bill. Conditions have become such that the big, rich interests are eliminating the small man in business. I am in the brick business. My business is not a big business. Under the provisions of this bill it might stop the big, rich corporation from putting a plant alongside of mine, an organization with unlimited capital, and put me out of business. This is true not only of the brick business, but of many other things, the ice business for instance, and all other kinds. It is possible to do these things, and these things are coming. It is possible we cannot do it this session, but it is coming.

I was a member of this House a long time ago, and my mind goes back to the session of 1911 when we didn't have such things as public utility commissions and other protection for certain kinds of businesses. You will find the day is coming when the little fellows must be protected too. We, as American citizens, all want an equal chance and a square and fair deal, and the day will come when we will get it, or we will see why. If I am alive at that time I want to come down to this body and look into your faces and see how many Mr. Rhodes and how many of these other gentlemen are here who always oppose this kind of legislation.

Mr. RHODES. Will the gentleman from Allegheny state whether or not in his opinion this would not try to regulate interstate commerce?

Mr. HOUGH. No, Mr. Speaker, in my opinion, it would come within the State laws.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I was unable to hear the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny in explanation of this bill, but from my perusal of it, it certainly is a piece of legislation that would never stand the test of the courts. It certainly is an attempt to regulate interstate commerce and is entirely contrary to the purposes of the National Recovery Act. How it can be operated is beyond me. I think it is absolutely impracticable, and therefore it should be defeated.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hough.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. HOUGH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman to explain what he means by the words, "service at a price that is discriminatory and cannot be maintained to all the purchasers in the same purchasing class".

Mr. HOUGH. Will the gentleman state his question again, please.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I desire the gentleman to explain to the members of this House section 2 which reads as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any reason, copartnership or corporation to sell, barter or trade or offer for sale, barter or trade, any commodity or service at a price that is discriminatory and cannot be maintained to all the purchasers in the same purchasing class."

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, the sentence as presented by the Philadelphia lawyer puts it in the position that where one man works for five dollars and the other works for a hundred dollars you have a difference and I would say that is the same condition that exists in commodities and in manufacture. In this bill I want to put this State in shape so that it is possible for a manufacturer to pay a fair wage to the people and put them in a position to live in a manner that becomes American citizens. In my experience it seems that some of these lawyers come here and only sit to find fault with things and only see things from a lawyer's standpoint. It is a sad thing that in a body like this that instead of giving me the courtesy of coming down and showing me where my idea is wrong, in the ideas of a lawyer, they get up here and try to belittle me. I have been a member of this House back to a point of time when some of you were not born yet. At that time there was more courtesy shown than is now shown by these Philadelphia lawyers.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I desire to disclaim any discourtesy to the gentleman from Allegheny. My only purpose was to understand how that section could be explained by any one. I only desired his explanation and I certainly did not desire to belittle the gentleman from Allegheny County.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, before the gentlemen proceed any further in their debate and in an effort to anticipate any further reflections and in view of the various passages at arms between the two gentlemen I desire to call the House's attention to Rule No. 3 which in speaking of the duty of the Speaker says: "He shall preserve order and decorum and in debate shall prevent personal reflection, and confine members to the question under discusison. When two or more members shall rise at the same time, he shall name the one entitled to the floor."

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentlemen in the course of their debate will refrain from personal reflections.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman further.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, referring to Section 3 of the Act, the meaning of the last several lines, which provide as follows: "All sales of goods or service must be free from any form of bribery or coercion special service or privilege loaning money to a purchaser or endorsing a customer's note any form of rebating shall constitute a violation of this act subject to the penalties as hereinafter set forth." Do I understand the gentleman from Allegheny that in the event of any one person selling goods to a buyer, if he should happen to endorse his note, that that would be a violation of this act?

Mr. HOUGH. In my interpretation of the words used there, Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I would interpret it that that would be in the form of doing a personal favor. The mere fact of a man going on a commercial paper in the form of a note would be a legitimate transaction. This is not a case of shady practice, where one man says to another, "If you do certain things I will buy your goods."

Furthermore, I want to apologize to you, Mr. Speaker, and Dr. Hutton, for any shortcomings I may have. I am not learned in the law, and therefore you should not expect as much from me as from some others, but I do try to do the best I can and not to be discourteous, but try to defend my case along the line of truth. I did not want to make any discriminating remarks when I used the term "Philadelphia lawyers", but that is a term that is much used back home, and that is why I used the term in the way I did. I respectfully ask the support of the House to this measure.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman, does not the endorsement of the note mean a violation of the act? Is that not what this act provides?

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, it is quite evident that this man has never been in business where he has had to accept a promissory note for thirty, sixty or ninety days, or possibly for six months. It is a regular thing in banking practices, but it is not satisfaction of a bill. It is like a check that is marked "N. S. F." Every other lawyer will tell you that. They would not ask a question as absurd as that.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am very sorry that Mr. Hough took as a personal reflection on him what I said when I asked about the provisions of this bill. I had no such intention then and do not have now. I don't think it is proper for any member of this House when asked by another member, to explain the provisions of the bill which he sponsors, to take personal offense. I had no intention to reflect on him whatever, but I do say that of any bill that ever came up in this House, this is the most vicious bill. Under the provisions of this bill, if I am in business and I happen to endorse a note for a customer of mine, the language in this bill is plain and there is no mistake about it. If you endorse a note for any of your customers you are guilty of a violation of this act. I call your attention to Section 3. If there was nothing else objectionable in that bill, that part in itself deserves defeat. In addition to that, the bill provides such a condition of affairs that I do not think any business man in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania could conduct his business in a right and proper way. I ask you to defeat the bill.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TAHL. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia please tell me what his business is?

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I am a member of the bar.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, does he realize that in his capacity he can represent certain interests and his duties to the Legislature? I am asking him that question.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I again press the point of order to the effect that no reflection or imputation may be passed by one member upon another.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, there is no reflection or imputation. I just want to bring out the point who this gentleman is.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is informed that this is a discussion of a bill and not of personalities; therefore, it will be out of order for the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hough, to ask Mr. Tahl anything about his personal relations.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection.

The SPEAKER. But the Chair does object.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I do not, I am perfectly willing to reply.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Baker, Laubach, Ederer, Forrest, Craig, Stiteler, Brennan, Conner, Mumford, Wood, Wilson, Woodside, Cooke, Bennett, Baldi, Peters, Heffernan, Tahl, Nothnagle, Rice, Habbyshaw, Shreiner and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question be now put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 121, Printer's No. 118, entitled:

"An act requiring wages to be paid in cash, check or other evidence of indebtedness redeemable in lawful money of the United States" was defeated on final passage Wednesday, December 13, 1933, be reconsidered.

Mr. CARSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Wagner, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. WAGNER. In the majority, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Carson, vote?

Mr. CARSON. I voted in the majority, Mr. Speaker.

On the question, will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, yesterday when we voted on this measure forty members of the House were absent, therefore, I was not entirely satisfied with the vote, although we had the majority of the members elect, the vote was ninety-six to seventy-two, and for that reason I ask that the vote be reconsidered.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I understand the gentlemen who are moving for the reconsideration of the vote after the passage of the bill voted with the majority of the votes cast. The bill did not receive one hundred and five votes, but received more votes than the negative vote.

The SPEAKER. That is true.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, are they now qualified to move to reconsider after having voted for the bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair, in answer to the gentleman from McKean, on a question of parliamentary inquiry, states that only two gentlemen voting in the negative can ask for a reconsideration of the vote.

How did the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Wagner, vote when the bill was before the body.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, in the affirmative.

The SPEAKER. Then the Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Wagner, that he did not vote with the majority, because the bill failed to pass.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, our authority for this motion is found in the book of rules on page 62, Rule No. 81 where it states: "A motion for reconsideration shall be permitted when made and seconded by members who were in the majority on the original question—"

The SPEAKER. In answer to the question propounded under Rule No. 81, if the affirmative had been in the majority, then the bill would have passed. Therefore, in this case, although the majority voted in the affirmative, due to the failure to cast the required number of votes to pass the bill finally, the bill was lost. Therefore, it is necessary on this motion now to say that it is out of order and that it is necessary for two members having voted in the negative to offer such a motion.

The Chair rules the motion out of order.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 60, entitled:

An Act to promote the safety of employes and travelers upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to man locomotives trains and other self propelled engines or machines with competent employes to provide the least number of men that may be employed on locomotive trains and other self propelled engines or machines to provide the qualification of certain employes and to provide a penalty for violation thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, you have before you a bill that has been known for years to be a full crew bill and which has lately become known as the short hours or the long train bill.

When I came to this legislature in 1919 we had full crew bills then, they were repeal bills at that time. In 1921 we had full crew bills to extend the number of trainmen on trains, and also bills to reduce the number that were required, before the railroad committee. The railroad committee in 1921 listened long and patiently to many debates on the subject and after the subject had been fully debated that railroad committee, briefly, came to this conclusion. In some places extra trainmen were needed and in some places they were not needed, and that the full crew bill was in fact an effort to make the railroad company employ more trainmen than were necessary; so the committee at that time came to the conclusion that the railroads should be placed under the Public Service Commission with reference to the number of trainmen on the trains. We then reported out the bill which was passed, and the substance of that bill is this; that the Public Service Commission shall have power by hearing, upon notice in writing, to require any railroad corporation to employ such a number of men upon any of its trains as in the judgment of the Commission is necessary for safe and convenient operation.

That bill has been in force now over ten years and during the ten years approximately twenty-one complaints have been made to the Public Service Commission. Of all of these cases that were presented to the Public Service Commission, five were sustained, two were withdrawn, five were dismissed, and in three cases the railroad company immediately complied with the request. In six of the cases the complaints were abandoned on the answer of the railroad company and they ceased to prosecute their complaints.

Now, the bill before you says that it is an act to promote safety. If unsafe conditions have existed in Pennsylvania during the past ten years it is impossible to conceive that only twenty-one complaints would have been filed with the Public Service Commission, about two a year. I think, and I think the members of this House can well conclude, that the title saying that this is a bill to promote the public safety is merely a false-face and a sham; that the purpose of the bill is not to promote safety, because we have plenty of law today to accomplish that purpose, but the purpose of the bill is to create additional employment. In other words, to force the railroads to employ help that is not needed.

These are not days in which we can tell other people how to run their business, especially with making them hire unnecessary employes. The bill before you would try to create the impression that it was for a great public benefit and protection. It is in fact a most dangerous proposition.

If we are to grant old age pensions, if we are to promote social legislation, then we must conserve our resources to apply to those purposes. If we are to squander our resources, we cannot promote old age pensions and promote social legislation. In the period of a year a community with its labor and its machinery can only produce so much profit, and the question that this bill raises is, shall a portion of these profits be applied to luxury employes or shall they be rather diverted to the benefit of old age pensions and social legislation. They must be made to produce profits to keep the aged and to keep the young from laboring. If we put men to work where they are not needed, then who will produce the things that old age needs, and who will produce the things that youth needs in order to be supported adequately.

The old full crew bills really originated in days when trains lacked safety devices; they originated in the days when hand couplers and other late inventions and improvements did not exist. In those days there were very plausible arguments for full crews, but today invention has so added to and assisted railroad transportation that the additional men as provided for in this bill are not needed on the trains. I think I have already explained that in order to regulate conditions amongst labor and to give preference to the old and to the young, we must not waste our resources, we must do all in our power to not waste the efforts of the people but protect the industrial worker that is able to work and is willing to work and produce, so as to keep the young in school and the aged at home.

Now, members of the House, if this bill presented to you, it pretends to present to you, a remedy for some evil condition, then the proponents of the bill would have some argument or justification for presenting it. I have followed the press for the last ten years and I have made inquiries as to accidents, and the facts as they are presented to me, and which I believe, are that there have been no accidents of any consequence in Pennsylvania, or anywhere, that are due to the short number of trainmen, or the lack of the additional trainmen which this bill requires your roads to have.

There is still another important reason why we should not at this time ask the nation to consider this bill. That reason is this: Our good President has taken the situation into his hands, under NRA legislation, and under the program he has adopted to bring about a new deal and to bring about a remedy and to bring about the end of the depression. He has appointed Mr. Eastman I think his name is, as Director General of all railroads. I submit to this House that we can well trust the experiment to Washington, and that we should go along with it, and we should not by legislation in this State tie the hands of the officials at Washington in an endeavor to bring about a remedy and to procure what Washington wants to bring about. If you pass this bill you will interfere with that new deal program and with its objectives, and I would ask you, under these circumstances, not to interfere with their plans, but to vote this bill down.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I could not idly sit by and see one false impression after another being made. In other words, the case is being built up to make it seem that the working man of Pennsylvania was soliciting something from the Legislature that they are not entitled to under the title of safety to the public. I believe I am as well qualified as the previous speaker to call to the attention of this House several of the discrepancies that exist in his plea for the railroad company. When he said that we were about to squander money that we cannot use for old age pensions, I am wondering whether he desires to leave with this House the impression that if this bill is not enacted into law that the railroad company will graciously turn over to the old age pensions the funds and the enormous earnings they are earning now.

I wish to call your attention to the statement of my friend, Mr. Sowers, that men are not necessary. That perhaps, in a sense, is true. But take your city police department. If nothing happens you could easily get along with one policeman. This bill is designated to have effect when things do happen on the railroad. Take the city fire department. You see them sitting around the fire houses all day long. Why not send them all home, and only keep one of them on duty. You could easily get along with one when nothing happens. That same thing applies to your railroads. If trouble was left out of the picture they could perhaps get along without any additional men on a train, but to provide protection against trouble and to promote safety as a whole, I say that you must have these men. A further proof of the fact is that the State of New York and the State of Arkansas both now have laws that twenty-five to thirty cars is the limit for the crew. This bill calls for fifty cars. In both of those states the laws were appealed to the Supreme Court and the Supreme Court upheld the lower courts and the legislatures and declared the bills constitutional. I might also say that we could produce, if we wanted to burden you with the time, documents or cases. For instance when a train stops on a four track system, railroad law requires a flag man to go out in both directions. We don't have the flagmen and necessarily somebody must do the work. If that is promoting safety then I don't know what we are talking about.

Getting down to the question of Mr. Eastman, the Federal Co-ordinator of Labor, I don't think that this is matter that Mr. Eastman could step into if he should so desire. The railroad set-up is peculiar, particularly wherein we have certain boards known as train service boards to handle grievances and discrepancies that exist between the agreeing parties. I believe that the railroad brotherhoods are the only organizations that deal directly with the government.

In closing I want to say to you that it is necessary for both safety, and I might go on hour after hour, telling you cases and explaining what they mean, explaining the use of the emergency air brakes and automatic train control, as they exist today. I might ask the gentleman who spoke ahead of me what he knows about lifting up extractor draw bars from the tracks, whether he knows of any three members of this House who could do it, when the weight of this draw bar is anywhere from two to three hundred pounds. I could tell you of many instances, but I will ask you to believe me when I say it is necessary and essential for this bill to be passed to promote safety.

Mr. BERNHARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have on the head end of a train what is called the automatic train control that is put on there for the purpose of the protection of the incapacitated man on the engine. We have on the engine two men, a locomotive engineer and a locomotive fireman, and in addition we are protected by the automatic train control. That control was considered necessary or it would not have been put on. We have on the rear end of the train, in the caboose, two men, a conductor and a flagman. On a number of railroads in this country they have a rule that states that one of these men must advance on the train while enroute to perform certain duties leaving but one man on the rear of the train. Now that man on the rear end of the train might become incapacitated and there would be nobody to protect the train. I wonder if that is not a safety move; I just wonder. You know what happened in the last year, the Erie wreck in the upper end of the state. I could recite to you numerous cases. This is an absolute necessity.

Mr. DAVID PERRY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I realize that perhaps the most vicious part of legislation is your necessity to have to listen to a lot of oratory that accompanies the passage or the defeat of that legislation, and I bear that in mind.

We have come down here in pursuance of a proclamation issued by the Chief Executive of this State to solve certain problems of a constructive nature for the good of the people. We have been sitting here, and we have been earnestly engaged under all sorts of handicaps in reaching a solution. Constantly there has been dangled before our eyes, both by inference and directly, a sword of Damocles that will fall upon our political necks unless we vote as we think the folks want us to vote, and I am afraid, members of the Assembly, that many times we are mistaking the loud noise of a few for the voice of the people that is quiet.

I have tried to sit here regardless of political affiliation to consider the need of the people, and I realize that in my own humble opinion there are many things upon which I cannot decide. I have admiration for any men or for any women in this assembly who in sincerity are promoting measures which in their honest opinions will bring about that result and so there is no thought of personal reflection in my mind towards the sponsors or the promoters of this bill, if they honestly believe that this bill will correct an evil which exists in the State of Pensylvania, but I personally cannot come to that viewpoint. I personally feel that during the hysteria of the present times they are being guided, perhaps blindly, by what they think is the voice of the people but which in my opinion only amounts to the loud cries and the loud charges of the few, and we may return to find a sword of Damocles hanging over our heads by those back home who are expecting us to keep our head when others are losing theirs. We must not forget the people back home who do not talk, who are expecting us not only to bring relief to this situation for the next year at the price of the future, but are expecting us to give them constructive legislation that will keep America, and will keep the State of Pennsylvania, from continuing to travel through the black years through which she has just travelled.

I think that this is one of the measures that is not a constructive measure; I think it is special legislation. I come from a community in which the shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad are located. Our people are dependent on those shops for a living. They employ possibly anywhere from twelve to fifteen thousand men. Approximately fifteen percent of those men are on the road. This bill is giving an absolutely special preference to a very small percentage. And it means this, we cannot meddle with certain economic laws and think we will cure them by laying down rigid rules that they must employ a certain number of men. It does not work that way in every day life and in my own humble opinion it is impossible to lead them out of the blackness through which we have just passed and it is insane to try to meddle with things that are too big for us. What about that seventy-five to eight-five percent of the men? Would I be honest to those men, if I say in order to give twenty-five hundred jobs, which this bill will call for, they must come from you. You are the seventy-five percent and there is only a certain amount of work than can be done, only a certain amount of business that can be handled, and where it goes on one side of the scale it has got to come off the other. I am thinking of the seventy-five to eighty percent of my own men who are working in the shops, I am thinking of those men when I am voting no on this bill.

I am not seeking to retard any legislation, any social legislation. I, however, feel, in my humble opinion, that under the term of social legislation many evils have been committed when certain individuals and certain groups begin playing on the heart strings of the human emotions, forgetting all the time that the sword is hovering over our heads at the spring primaries in the reaction of the majority of the thinking people who go out and cast their votes.

I want to say, perhaps it is slightly off of the question, but I want to say this to clarify a situation that has been in my mind. I know how hard it is to ignore the nods and the winks and the various motions of those from off this floor. I know that this is poor legislation and I know that it will be political suicide for me if I do not support it. I do not ask and do not encourage any individual but I throw this challenge to every man in this room right now; how many of your think that this is bad legislation and yet feel that you must support it because there is going to be another blacklist out; because there is going to be another sword hanging over your heads at the spring primaries. I know it is political suicide for me to make this speech. I have no personal interest in the measure. I know, under the hysteria of the moment that they will turn out pamphlets and distribute them up and down the state. I realize as well as any man in this room that it means that I don't return next next session.

My Dad worked for the Pennsylvania Railroad, in the shops, at twelve cents an hour, and he didn't ask any Legislature to pass rigid rules; all he wanted was a chance to keep his chin up in the air and a chance to keep plugging along. I don't like to see class legislation brought in on the harp strings of bad times.

If this is a safety measure, then what about your trucks on the road; what about the buses that are hauling all these people; what about the men on those trucks that are endangering the lives of our citizens every way. Why were they not included? If this is a safety measure why were they specifically excluded from the terms of this bill? If it be a safety measure let us be consistent; let us go all the way. You have passed, and been passed, by these large trucks and passenger buses travelling sixty and seventy miles an hour. You could not drive to Harrisburg without seeing them. Now, let us be consistent.

There is only this one thought; I realize, and I pay special tribute to the men who are sincere in this group, who are supporting this measure. More power to you. If you are right I hope you will win. Personally, I cannot agree with you. My own view is that this is poor legislation and it will offset the very purpose for which you have presented it.

We have this situation, that the railroads have been so meddled with in the last fifteen years that the President of the United States felt that for the safety of the entire system of railroads he should put it in the hands of a coordinator and it is now in that man's hands. I have heard no statement from the sponsors of this bill that the man entrusted by the President of the United States with this duty has been consulted about its terms. I have heard no statement, other than coming from that group in this House who are familiar with only a few miles of railroad, when down in Washington—perhaps opposed to this very plan—for all I know—is a commission or a body that is trying to formulate some system or policy out of the chaos that has prevailed.

I am sorry that this bill has come up at a special session, because at a special session there is always the hysteria of the times. It has been coming up from year to year, being defeated and then sometimes passed and then repealed. It is one of those problems that must be solved by men who are free of all interest in next year's primaries.

With all of the business failures and all the wild hysteria at this time, I do not believe we should attempt to legislate jobs. If we could do that I would vote for a bill tomorrow compelling every industry to employ every man in the State of Pennsylvania, and that would be just as consistent as this bill is.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, has given you the history of the bill, or the Act of Assembly, as passed on the 5th of May, 1921, on which day it became the law, and that law is still in operation. They have still an option, which I feel adequately meets and situation as to the promotion of safety, and I will read to you its terms. It authorizes the Public Service Commission created in 1913 to have the power or requiring any railroad corporation to employ such number of men upon any of its trains as in the judgment of the commission is requisite for the safe and efficient operation thereof and giving to that body power to enforce those orders. If there is a need for more men on the railroads, I say to you that it is costing plenty of money to support a Commission to enforce that particular provision.

So I suggest, Mr. Speaker, and members of the Assembly, when we are voting on this legislation, and I say this without a thought of criticism, let us forget that next spring there is a primary. Let us remember that we are away from home and not only bring relief for the present but hold our heads up and see that we do the best for the future. Don't forget that in the spring primaries there is going to be a lot of men and women who have felt the stress just as even you and I have felt it, who are going to say "if you wipe away from me all desire of initiative you have not truly represented my interests."

So, Mr. Speaker, just as I have said, I know this means political suicide, I know that it means perhaps the abandoning of all hope of coming back here to the next session. I am not representing any utility, I am not interested in any railroad, I have no big clients as a lawyer. My clients are the little fellow who works for the railroad. When he starves, as they have been doing lately, because there has not been enough work to go around, I starve with them.

So I say, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, cast aside all the accusations that have been brought before you by the newspaper publications, that have harangued and threatened this legislature, all these little side nods, all these little winks or taps on the shoulder "Well, you had better do it or we will remember it next spring," and once in our lives vote intelligently, vote fairly and forget all the things that are going to happen next spring.

As I have said, and I say again to the different sponsors of this measure, if you think you are right vote for it, but don't vote for it because of the fear of next spring.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Weidemann, Price, Wike, Habbyshaw, DeFrehn, Wood, George W. Williams, John L. Holmes, Wilson, Snyder, Harry E. Himes, McGregor, Ederer, Forrest, Craig, Peters, White, Heffernan, Mohn, Rice, Woodside and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question be now put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. BECHTEL. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 34, entitled:

An Act to repal the act approved the eighteenth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws five hundred forty-six), entitled: "An Act authorizing the appointment by the Governor, of industrial police upon application of certain corporations companies associations and individuals prescribing the powers of such police authorizing the Governor to investigate their work and require periodical reports from them imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth and recorders of deeds and imposing penalties."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WAY. Mr. Speaker and members of the Assembly, I feel that just a little explanation is due you in regard to the bill that is now before you. Prior to the meeting of the Corporations Committee, of which I am Chairman, the question was brought to my attention as to whether this bill came within the call of the Governor, and in order to present it to the Committee for their full information, I ask Mr. Fertig to give me an opinion, which I will have presented to the House.

I just want you to understand for fear that I might be misinterpreted as Chairman of the Committee as being against the bill that that was not the case in asking Mr. Fertig for an opinion.

In the 1929 session and also in the 1931 session a bill much of the same kind either amended or a new bill was introduced by Mr. Musmanno for which I voted on both occasions. I think you are entitled to know this and I will ask the reading clerk to read this communication from Mr. Fertig.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Clearfield will send the opinion to the desk so that the clerk may read the same for the information of the House.

The communication was read by the Clerk as follows:

12 December 1933

Honorable A. P. Way, House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. Way:

I have your request to be informed whether House Bill No. 34 is on a subject within the Governor's call.

This bill proposes to repeal the Act of April 18, 1929, P. L. 546, which provides for the appointment by the Governor of industrial police on the application of corporations and companies.

There is only one possible item in the Governor's proclamation in connection with which this bill may be considered. This is Item No. 4, which, among other subjects, allows legislation regulating hours, wages, payment and conditions of labor. It also appears that if the bill were to be sustained, it would have to be on the theory that the bill has to do with conditions of labor, since it plainly does not have anything to do with hours or wages.

It seems to me that the term "conditions of labor" comprehends such matters as hours, payment and rate of wages, protection of labor from unsafe machinery and unsanitary conditions, the rights of collective bargaining, etc., but does not comprehend the employment of policemen commissioned by the Governor for the protection of private property. It may be that such police play an important part during the periods of labor controversy, but they are not the cause producing the conditions of labor which bring about the controversy. In my opinion the term "conditions of labor" as used in the Governor's proclamation does not include this bill, and that it is not within the call.

Sincerely yours,
J. H. FERTIG.

JHF:A

Mr. WAY. Mr. Speaker, in my previous remarks I overlooked saying that when the bill was voted on in committee it was voted on with the understanding this this communication should be presented to the House.

MOTION TO DROP BILL FROM CALENDAR

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the bill not being within the call, I move that it be dropped from the calendar.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that the House itself will have to determine the constitutionality of the bill, as to whether it comes within the call.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there has just been read within your hearing an opinion of the Director of Legislative Reference Bureau, Mr. Fertig.

I want to call your attention specifically to the provisions of the Pennsylvania Constitution relative to this matter. You will find in Article III, section 25 of the Constitution this provision:

"When the General Assembly shall be convened in special session, there shall be no legislation upon subjects other than those designated in the proclamation of the Governor calling such session."

We have had in previous special sessions a number of cases which have gone to the higher courts, and in all of those cases the courts have ruled that where the proposed bill is not clearly within the terms of the call, it is not within the terms of the Constitution, and, therefore, cannot be considered. Among the cases to which reference might be made is the well known in re Lykens, 223 Pa. 456. That case is considered by lawyers the leading case upon that subject.

As regards the particular matter under consideration it seems to me clearly, and I am in entire accord with the opinion of Mr. Fertig, that this particular bill doesn't come within the call.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I rise to the point of order that this bill is not property upon the calendar, because it is unconstitutional, in that it does not come within the call of the Governor.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Hutton, has raised a point of order.

The Chair desires to read Article III, section 25:

"LEGISLATION AT SPECIAL SESSION

"Section 25. When the General Assembly shall be convened in special session, there shall be no legislation upon subjects other than those designated in the proclamation of the Governor calling such session."

The question has been raised and the Chair finds itself in the same position as in the session of yesterday. Therefore, it does not deem it necessary to repeat its opinion and the ruling then made by the Chair, and now lays before the House the question of the constitutionality of House Bill No. 34, Printer's No. 136, as to whether it comes within the call of the Governor.

Mr. JOHN J. KANE. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the House, I desire to state that prior to the introduction of this bill I had occasion to interview the Governor with the committee on another matter. Under section 4 of the call we asked the Governor whether in his opinion this bill to repeal the coal and iron police would come within his call, and he said it would, in the presence of John Phillips, the president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, and acting on that statement I presented the bill to this House and it is now before you.

I do not desire to discuss the bill further at this time other than to answer the point that has been raised, that it was presented on the statement of the Governor, that was made in the presence of John Phillips and I then prepared the bill and presented it at this session.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is with some defference that I rise to oppose the motion, due to the fact that the eminent professor has advocated the thought that this bill is unconstitutional.

I think we all well realize, constitution or no constitution, that the foundation of this Commonwealth and of the United States stands on the basis of diversified powers and functions. We have the legislative, the judicial and the executive functions to be performed by each and every individual in his separate capacity. If we are to assume such a group as this delegation is to pass upon the constitutionality of the proposed measure, we are in effect assuming part of the judicial function.

Now, in the letter from Mr. Fertig, in section 4, he intimates that there is a possibility of this bill being declared constitutional under item 4 of the Governor's call relative to the condition of labor.

If we are to decide whether or not the presence of armed guards employed by private enterprises to enforce their own private orders affects the condition of labor then it must undoubtedly come within the call of the Governor and it most undoubtedly is a constitutional measure. On the other hand if we feel that the condition of labor is not affected by the presence of armed guards or affecting private employers, then possibly it might be unconstitutional, but I say to you, members of the House, that by no stretch of the imagination could lead me to believe that the right of collective bargaining, the inherent right of labor, is not molested by the presence of armed guards enforcing dictates of employers, I present to you the thought that the question of the constitutionality that has been raised is merely being raised to throw some dust in the eyes. It is an easy matter, it is an easy way to get out of unpleasant circumstances to declare the bill unconstitutional.

You have heard from the rostrum of this very House the Governor admonish us to pass the old age pension bill and place it upon the lap of the Supreme Court on the question of whether or not that bill is constitutional, and I say to you members of this House, that it is our duty to vote down this question of constitutionality and allow this bill to be passed upon as to its constitutionality by the judiciary in which group that power rightfully belongs.

The SPEAKER. In view of the ruling of the Chair yesterday, the Chair must of necessity take issue with the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen. The rules of this body and our constitution are full of mandate along that line, providing that this body shall determine the constitutionality of legislation before it votes upon it. If and when the legislation becomes a law and is written into our statute books, then and not until then does it become a judicial matter. The Chair has ruled so before and again so rules.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I had not expected to return and address you again on this subject, but I do desire to state that it is a matter of very keen regret to me that my good friend the gentleman from York has not had the benefit of some of my instruction at the Dickinson School of Law. If he had had that benefit I am quite certain that he would not have fallen into the grievous legal errors which he has perpetrated upon this House.

As has been well stated by the Speaker, this question is not a judicial question at this time. It is a question for this House, and I just want to call the attention of the members of this House to a very solemn ceremony in which we all participated on the assembling day, when we all came forward here before the rostrum and took an oath to support not only the Constitution of the United States, but the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and all well versed lawyers know that the rule of law is that a legislative body is not to pass a bill in which there is any reasonable doubt as to its constitutionality and on the other hand no court will declare an act unconstitutional if there is any reasonable support to be given to it. Those are the simple elementary black letter rules of the law.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I think there is one other reason why the ladies and gentlemen of this House should not pass upon this measure if we have any doubt at all about its constitutionality.

There is none of these police now in office. Not one. Governor Pinchot allowed every one of their commissions to expire. There will be none during his term of office, and before that expires there will be a regular session when they will have the privilege to pass upon it, a constitutional opportunity to pass upon it, and to rush in at a special session and pass a bill of doubtful constitutionality is a very grave mistake when there is not a single man in office, not one. He has allowed every one of them to go out of office.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the question now before the House as I understand it is whether or not this bill is within the call of the Governor.

The SPEAKER. As to whether it is unconstitutional in so far as it is not within the call of the Governor calling for the extraordinary session.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, statements have been made that the bill is intended for the relief of labor. We are basing our argument on section 4 where the Governor has very definitely said he desired legislation to prohibit the private employment of deputy sheriffs. It is true as the representative Mr. Wilson has said, that at the present time, since the Governor has assumed office there are no coal and iron police commissioned, but there is established in the state a private deputy sheriff police force, and the Governor has asked the assembly to abolish that force, and we advance the claim that the coal and iron police are in the same catagory as the deputy sheriffs only under another name.

Mr. McELWEE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think in the light of the remarks just made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kane, this bill is clearly and most unmistakedly not within the call, because the part of the call to which he now refers and on which he bases his claim for the constitutionality of this bill has to do with deputy sheriffs, which even it seems to me the most unlearned in the law would know did not apply to this particular line of offices.

I might say that I have no personal interest in having this bill declared unconstitutional. Personally I am opposed to the coal and iron police, and if I had an opportunity to vote against them I would do so, but this bill to my mind does not come within the call under any circumstances and certainly does not come within the call insofar as the call relates to deputy sheriffs.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Hutton.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Hutton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUTTON. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WASSERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. The motion is not in order because permission has been given the gentleman from York to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Franklin as to whether I understood him correctly when I understood him to say that the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania would declare the bill unconstitutional if there was the least indication that it was so.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, in response to the interrogation of my friend, the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, I again recite the proposition, that after a bill has been enacted into law there is a presumption that it is constitutional, for the reason that the Supreme Court will assume that the members of the House and the General Assembly performed their duties in observing that if a measure was presented to them in which there was any reasonable doubt as to its constitutionality, they would not adopt the measure.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Hutton, may I ask you if the rules that are laid down by the Supreme Court for ascertaining the constitutionality of a measure are any different than those which we as members of the General Assembly should lay down.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I cannot do more than reiterate the two rules, and it seems to me they are sufficiently clear, and I hope they are clear to my friend, the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, but in order that there be no misunderstanding I will again repeat that the rule is, that the General Assembly is not to consider favorably any measure in which there is a reasonable doubt arising in their minds concerning its constitutionality.

On the other hand when the General Assembly has enacted a bill into law then there is a presumption of constitutionality arising and the courts take cognizance of that, because the courts are treating with one of the co-ordinate branches of the government, which are, as my friend from York has well stated, the legislative, judicial and executive branches and they are under our scheme of constitutional law supposed to be co-ordinate in their powers.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please answer the question that I proposed; are the rules of the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the rules they use for ascertaining the constitutionality of a measure any different than what we as members of the General Assembly should use in arriving at the constitutionality?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from McKean, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, at what stage can we move the previous question?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit the Chair to ask the gentleman from York a question?

Will the gentleman, if it is possible, inform the Chair how many more interrogations he desires to make?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Franklin will answer the question I have just asked him, I will only have one more question to ask.

The SPEAKER. After this one?

Mr. COHEN. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman suspend for the time being.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, some of us have two hundred or two hundred and fifty miles to ride on the ice and would like to get away some time.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the last interrogation, I can do no more than repeat what I have already stated.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman from Franklin has not answered my question, I do not want to ask him the other question.

The SPEAKER. The question before the House involves House Bill No. 34, Printer's No. 136, as to whether this bill comes within the call of the Governor. A vote "aye" is that the bill does come within the call of the Governor, and a vote "no" does not come within the call of the Governor.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. J. E. Brown and Mr. Lane and were as follows:

CONSENT GRANTED TO INTRODUCE BILLS

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement at this time.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there have just been handed to me by the Attorney General two bills for the purpose of having them introduced. These two bills are really amendments necessary to House Bills Nos. 8 and 9, which are laws having been passed by the Senate and House and signed by the Governor. One bill provides for the State of Pennsylvania to be able to take advantage of the situation with respect to taxes on liquors if the Federal Government passes a tax in which Pennsylvania may participate. Under the present act there is no such provision. The other bill merely gives the Department of Revenue the right to grant extensions of time, subject to certain restrictions. In order that these bills may be considered, and because of the number of legislative days that remain, I will ask the unanimous consent of the House be given an opportunity to introduce these bills so you may have an opportunity to pass upon them.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, asks unanimous consent of the House to introduce two bills at this time. Are there objections? The Chair hears none, and the gentleman will send the bills to the desk.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask the consent of the House for the Committee on Ways and Means to meet to consider the two bills just referred during the Session of the House. I would like them to meet at the left of the rostrum.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections permission will be granted the Committee on Ways and Means to meet immediately at the left of the rostrum. Are there objections? The Chair hears none, and permission is granted.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 47, entitled:

A Joint Resolution approving the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States relative to the labor of persons under eighteen years of age.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I have too great a respect for the sponsor of this resolution, and too high an admiration for his sincerity, courage of conviction and altruism to take issue with him lightly on any bill he may sponsor; but I am enough of a Jeffersonian, although I wear a Republican label, to believe that that Government is best which governs least, that all government is more or less dangerous and oppressive, and that the more strictly we confine governmental activities to smaller units the better off we shall all be.

The Constitution of the United States is the legal instrument by which the principals to the Federal compact delegated certain powers to their agent, the Federal Government. The control of industry and the control of homes are not among these delegated powers. Through judicial interpretation the Federal Government has acquired enormously increased power, further accentuated by the deliberate and voluntary surrender by the States of their reserved rights.

The French Constitution is amended in precisely the same way that a French law is added to the statute books,—by an Act of the French National Legislature; and if the present tendency continues, the Constitution of the United States, in the future, is likely to be amended in as facile a manner. The Constitution is a good deal like the carburetor of your car,—the less you monkey with it the better it works. The Constitution is sick from the attention of too many doctors. If we will stop doctoring it we may yet save it from destruction, as Wun Lung, the Chinaman, was saved by absent treatment. He told it thus: "Me velly sick. Callee in doctor. Me gettee worse. Callee in another doctor. Me gettee worse still. Callee in third doctor. Me almost die. Callee in fourth doctor. He savee my life. He no come."

I think it is about time, Mr. President, that we saved the Constitution. We are saving dogs from having their ears bobbed, and we are saving men, women and children from earning their bread by the sweat of their brows; now I suggest that we turn in and save the Constitution of the United States.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

I move you, Mr. President, that this resolution be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, the talk by our Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, takes me back to my childhood days. I have always revered and respected an educator, and I have never lost that feeling. I respect our honored Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, because of his being a Senator and, in addition to that, because of his being a noted educator. I want to differ with him, however, on this one proposition, and after the meeting is over I will have to do as you always must do with a professor and a teacher, go out and apologize; and I am going to apologize to him for whatever I may say in the meeting of the Senate, and I know he will excuse me.

I have been around these halls for some number of years,—I don't want to mention the number, because the people will find out how old I am; but ever since I have been a young man I have been advocating the cause of child labor. Long before there were any organizations taking up child labor, all by myself and alone, without any support, I think, I put in the first Act of Assembly on child labor legislation. I think it got as far as the desk, went into the committee, and was never heard of thereafter until some of the goodly women of Pennsylvania took it up and made it an issue. And all during that time, whenever a bill would come up, we would find the people who were opposing this p[illegible]r measure making this one battle-cry, "If you [illegible] legislation you will drive industry out of Penn-[illegible] And upon mature consideration it seems as t[illegible] they were making statements that were true, and developments afterward showed that those statements were true to some extent, because many of our manufacturers went to the southern states. Their battle-cry was, "If this were national legislation, we would all be for it. If every state in the union were on the same basis, that would be fair to Pennsylvania and would be good legislation."

And that battle-cry has been going on for years; so that the people behind this legislation have taken up the cause of the manufacturer, have taken it up from their standpoint, and are trying to make this national legislation in order that all states may work under the same, and a uniform law.

You cannot cry one way today and another way tomorrow and be consistent; and while I am on this question I might bring out some thoughts that come to my mind.

We all received a letter, quite recently, from a very prominent publication of Philadelphia, opposed to this legislation. The owners of that same publication are the owners of certain Philadelphia newspapers. The Philadelphia newspapers are advocating the passage of this legislation, while the parent institution, the owners of which are all one and the same, are opposing it. It seems as though they are for this legislation for circulation in their papers, but they are against it when it comes down to paying some of the funds out of the treasury of this institution; and, as a result of this hypocritical stand, if I may put it so, they may place the members of this Senate on the spot,—they damn them for doing it or they damn them for not doing it.

And then I have gone still further, and I find out that many of the industrialists in Pennsylvania, and the big institutions who are opposed to this,—when you look up the women's organizations that are advocating this legislation you find the wives of these same men advocating this legislation while their husbands, in their business activities, are opposing it. It looks to me like hypocracy. Something ought to be done whereby they take a stand one way or another, and not put the members of the Legislature on the spot,—to be wrong no matter what they do.

But so far as I am concerned, and so far as my feelings in this matter are concerned, and so far as my investigation of this legislation is concerned, it is the only way out. It is bound to be here session after session. I agree with my friend, the Senator from Cumberland, Doctor Prince, when he talks about the manner in which our Constitution has been battled around recently, but he need not worry about the disintegration of our Constitution, or about its getting another black eye or two. The Democrats have had it pretty badly bruised by now, and we shall not hurt it any if we give it another bump; but this legislation will cure the evil the manufacturers have been complaining of for years. It will be uniform legislation. It will not hurt the industrialists of Pennsylvania, but will protect them; and if this legislation goes through I think every manufacturer or industrialist who has opposed it or is trying to oppose it now will feel sorry for the opposition he has placed in its way. This is good legislation; it is good for business. God knows it cannot hurt the children of this great Commonwealth of ours.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to second the motion of the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince; and I wish to call, for a moment, the Senate's attention to the fact that this is a resolution amending, or adopting a suggested amendment to the Federal Constitution. I have in my hand the Call of the Governor for this special session, and I wish to call the Senate's attention to the fact that this amendment is not within the Call of the Governor. I think it is conceded that this act is legislation. It requires the signature of the Governor, and is in the form of a regular bill. The Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania, as you read in section twenty-five, provides that when the General Assembly shall be convened in Special Session there shall be no legislation upon subjects other than those designated in the Proclamation of the Governor calling such session; and in the four corners of this proclamation there is not one word about an amendment to the Federal Constitution. The last paragraph, paragraph thirteen of the Call, says "Legislation necessary to give effect to any Constitutional amendment,"—what?' "adopted by the people on November 7th, 1933."

Now, it would have been easy for the Governor to have added "and any amendment to the Federal Constitution," but he did not do it.

I understand that the proponents of this measure try to say that it is proper to pass it at this Special Session because in paragraph four of the Governor's call, which provides for "legislation on the regulation of hours, wages, payment and conditions of labor," it would come within the call; but this is not that subject, the subject of this amendment is the delegation to Congress of power to legislate, by adoption by Pennsylvania of an amendment to the Federal Constitution. In other words, the subject of this bill is not the regulation of the conditions of labor, but an amendment to the Federal Constitution, and for that reason, Mr. President and members of the Senate, I wish to second the motion of the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, and in seconding it I wish to put into the record at this time an editorial from one of the papers of this State which was handed me this evening,—because I think it is appropos to an act such as this, which provides that Congress shall have the power to regulate, to limit and prohibit the labor of persons who are under eighteen years of age. It means that a bureaucracy from Washington can step into my home and tell my son what he can do until he is eighteen years old. This is the editorial:

NO MORE OF THIS?

He was just a little fellow, not as large as his years would warrant. But the spirit that was in that little body was that of a full grown man.

He had felt himself a real man since his father's death when he was seven years old, for there were just the two of them—himself and his mother. His mother took in washing and he called for and delivered the clothes. Then, to help out, he sold papers on the streets, and delivered parcels for Mr. Brown, the corner grocer, who didn't have enough business to justify having a delivery wagon, but who had two dollars a week for William as compensation for his deliveries and for keeping the store half an hour at noon while he ate dinner.

But times were hard and with all he and his mother might do, they seemed never to have more than enough to pay the rent and feed and clothe themselves and keep fuel in the bin for the kitchen stove.

William had read stories of great men who had endured the same sort of boyhoods. John A. Johnson, the beloved governor of Minnesota, thirty years ago, had had much the same kind of story, except that Johnson's father was a drunkard and there were brothers and sisters, besides his mother for him to look after.

So the little fellow struggled on.

Today William is a leading citizen in the town where he has grown up.

But the making of that sort of men has displeased the disciples of the old darkey who wished everybody else was dead and he kept hotel, now in charge of the government and they are trying to secure the approval of an amendment to the federal Constitution that will make it a crime for boys like William to grow into the sort of manhood into which he and John A. Johnson grew.

"It's too hard," the soft headed advocates of the Child Labor Amendment cry out.

"We must stop this exploitation of childhood," mealy mouthed pulpit performers declare with unction.

"We must not allow children to deprive men of livlihoods," say labor leaders.

The tasks of the world require men of strength. The Roman Empire, when there was no longer a man great enough to rule it, was divided, so that three men might rule. But the stature of manhood kept on decreasing until today the little nation we call Rumania contains all that is left of the great nation that rose on the banks of the Tiber to rule the world.

Strong boys grow to be strong men.

But—as Rousseau tells us of the Arabs who conquered the Eastern Roman Empire, having become flourishing, learned, polished, effeminate and indolent," we like them, seem headed for "subjugation by the barbarians."

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I recognize the fact that all of the speakers on this bill have been out of order, and it is only because of the fine, gracious manner in which the Presiding Officer conducts these meetings that they were permitted to continue; but when the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, raised the legal and technical point I believe that many of the members of this body who favor this legislation, and the passage of it, treated him with extreme politeness, in not interrupting him and preventing him from making this eloquent address.

I doubt very much that the Senate of Pennsylvania should pass on legal questions. There are many splendid lawyers here who have practice at the bar for many years, but there are many of us who are not members of the bar, and we witnessed the spectacle in the House last week, of the members of the House acting as the Supreme Court on a constitutional question.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. President, so that I shall be absolutely in order, I rise to a question of personal privilege, before there can be complaint from any member.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise at this time to speak directly on the resolution, in which I think I am in order.

I think that inasmuch as this resolution has been considered in committee, passed on by the committee and sent to the floor of the Senate, we should act and face the music on this. Everyone knows that even the slightest delay, in the few days we may have to act on legislation, might spoil the chance of this bill's passing. Let us vote for it on the floor. Let us decide now, here and now,—not in committee. It has already been discussed in committee, and reported out. Let us face the music. Let us decide just whether we are for or against this bill; and let everybody know just exactly where we stand.

I think it would be a serious mistake on the part of the members of this Senate to refuse to act on this, and send it back to committee. I think it would almost be a cowardly thing to send this back and have it held in committee, without any action on it; and I sincerely hope the members of this body will see fit to vote down this motion to recommit this resolution to the committee; because I can say to you, it will develop that what I say to you is the truth, that when this goes back to committee I doubt very much that it will ever come out again; and we who desire to vote on this bill, and vote for it, will lose that opportunity. Therefore, I hope the members of the Senate will stand up and face the music and vote their convictions.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Snyder, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, as a Democrat I must remind myself of the fact that the Democratic party has been mentioned several times. It is rather gratifying to me to know that my colleague, the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, has admitted himself to be a Jeffersonian in his thinking. I understood Senator Salus to say that it would not hurt to give the Democratic party another bump, or words to that effect. And I listened with much interest to the remarks made by my colleague, the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, as to the technical features of this resolution.

Mr. President, within the call of the Governor there are many subjects included. It is very ambiguous, as it were. We can read this resolution into the call, and, at the same time, we can read it out of the call. But the question, Mr. President, is not, I believe, whether or not this resolution is within the call or whether it is not. I had understood that this legislation, this proposed legislation, would be adopted by the General Assembly. I had understood that by the good grace of those who have it to say, this was a bit of the social legislation which was to be adopted before we adjourned. There were some of us who were delighted with the prospect of the adoption of this legislation.

As a matter of fact, when I refer briefly to the remarks made by the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, you might think that it would be embarrassing for a Democrat when the question of States' rights is brought into a discussion, because there are many of us who still believe that that domain in government should not be transgressed upon; but I doubt very much whether a matter of this kind comes within that particular domain. I, for one, believe, Mr. President, that Mr. Grundy would be happy to have this legislation adopted. I recall that in the early years of my life in the Senate I heard repeated complaints of the competition given to Pennsylvania manufacturers in southern states. For that reason I believe it would be entirely proper to delegate this right to the Congress of the United States; and if we look at the resolution itself, it may very readily be misunderstood. There is the impression that this is something that will happen tomorrow, a regulation by the Congress. There is the impression, first of all, that it does definitely fix the age of eighteen years, and that the Congress, in all its power, could invade, as it was stated here, some homes in Tioga County or possibly Lehigh county or Bucks county, if you please, and regulate the hours and what not.

There is something beyond that, Mr. President. I suspect that when a sufficient number of States of the United States may ratify this amendment, that the people of America will be only too happy to know that Congress has such power of regulation. I fear that some of the gentlemen of the Senate are still thinking in terms of the past, when such regulation was abhorred. I think that perhaps if the predictions are true,—for example those made by Congressman Beck in New York the other day, when he called upon the Creator, as I understand, to save this Union from the ruination into which it is being led,—now, if you want to look at it from that angle, then the Republican party will be in power when this regulation is to be made; and, consequently, from that point of view, there will be nothing to fear.

But, beyond that, and finally, my fellow members of the Senate, do you know that five years from now,—yes, two years from now, the people of America will want youngsters, if I may call them such, eighteen years of age and younger, out of employment. We are coming to a new day, when there will be more leisure. We are coming to a new day, when the people of America will know how to use that leisure; and certainly, gentlemen, we want to improve the unemployment situation by giving men, fathers, brothers, opportunities to work; and I cannot understand why there should be such an immediate fear.

This motion, Mr. President, is a motion to kill this bill. It is not a motion which is explained in any other way. It is not for the purpose of amendment; it is a move to kill it. And I am pleading with you, members of the Senate, to permit at least this much of the social legislation under the Governor's Proclamation to pass,—therefore, to defeat this motion to recommit.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, this body seems somewhat confused on parliamentary procedure; so, may I ask if it would be proper for me at this time to deliver a message from the Attorney General, in which he states emphatically and positively that this is within the call?

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, it might be well for the Senate to know that those who vote "Aye" vote for the motion to recommit.

And the question recurring

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Harris and Mr. Salus and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Batchelor,	Clark,	Homsher,	Quigley,

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 118, entitled:

An Act to protect the owners of mortgaged property during the present emergency; restricting the right to proceed on mortgage bonds and the amounts recoverable thereon during a certain period.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill covers a subject which is within the call of the Governor, and is one of the most important subjects in the Governor's call. The bill as prepared by Senator Frazier concerns one of the most important parts of the Governor's plans. Both under the laws of Pennsylvania and other states, if real estate is sold at sheriff's sale, the sheriff sale value fixes the value. That is an unfair situation. Many efforts have been made in the last few years to correct that position. Similar laws have been passed in New Jersey and New York. Recently the New Jersey law has been declared unconstitutional. This bill has been submitted for the purpose of correcting the situation, but there are objections by those Senators from the upstate counties because there is time given after the foreclosure, and mortgagee. It also prevents the objection raised in the New Jersey law because it takes away a substantive right, and therefore would be declared unconstitutional.

At the request of the Judiciary General Committee I have prepared an amendment to the bill, and that amendment I am offering tonight, and because of the motion I am about to make I would like to say a word about the amendment. The amendment provides that whenever a property is sold and a mortgage proceeding, whether on mortgage or bond accompanying the mortgage, within six months from the date of the sale the person who brought the proceeding, that is the owner of the mortgage, must apply to the court in which the proceedings were brought for the purpose of having the fair value fixed, and anybody injured under this proceeding can present a petition to have the fair value of that property fixed, and when the fair value is determined the fair value shall be deducted from the mortgage so that the deficiency judgment would be reduced to the actual loss that would be sustained by the holder of the mortgage.

This amendment also provides that if this is not done by the mortgager within six months it will be admitted that the property has been sold for the full amount of the mortgage and the judgment should be satisfied.

It also gives the mortgagor or any other parties the right to apply to the court for the purpose of having that fair value fixed in the same manner. And in view of the fact that in these proceedings many persons are guarantors of the bond accompanying the mortgage, there is a provision in the amendment that those persons who have given bond to secure the mortgage shall have the same rights to apply to the court, and when those proceedings are determined the rights of the bondsman are also determined. Some question has been raised about this clogging the court in the larger cities and towns. The amendment contains a provision that the courts shall have the right to appoint masters to hear testimony as to the fair value, and limits the expense of those proceedings to one hundred and fifty dollars. And this bill will obviate much that is harmful and unfair when the holder of a mortgage sells the property at sheriff sale and there are no bidders and he buys it in for fifty dollars and has the privelege to proceed to execution for the balance of the mortgage against the personal property and household effects of the mortgage, because every mortgage contains a provision waiving the provision of the exemption laws. Under this bill such a proceeding cannot be had, and under this bill the fair value of the property having been fixed by two witnesses the question of the fairness to both parties could be considered by this proceeding. This act has attempted—I do not say I have been successful in it—to meet the Constitutional objections, and attempted to meet a number of objections of those persons who live in the counties where the proceedings might be burdensome.

As a matter of assurance I have consulted a number of the members of the Philadelphia bar who are active in real estate practice, and they have made one or two suggestions, which have been adopted, and to their minds it meets all the Constitutional questions and meets the practical situation. I am quite sure that the amendment here will cover the ground, inasmuch as no substantive rights are taken away, but merely procedural remedies have been suggested to take the place of those existing. In other words, the law of Pennsylvania that the fair value of properties determined by a sheriff sale is no longer the law if these amendments are adopted.

With this in mind I ask consent for the immediate adoption of these amendments.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend title, page 1, lines 2 and 3, by striking out the words "restricting the right to proceed on" in line 2, and the whole of line 3, and inserting in lieu thereof: "by limiting the amount of deficiency judgments"; also section 1 page 1, lines 4 to 14, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines; also page 2, lines 1 to 17, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines, and inserting in lieu thereof: "whenever any real property is sold on any execution on the foreclosure of any mortgage or on a judgment entered on any obligations secured by mortgage, and the sum for which such property was sold is not sufficient to satisfy the debt, interest and costs, the plaintiff or use plaintiff shall, within six months after such sale, petition the court out of which such writ of execution issued to fix the fair value of the property sold. At least ten days' notice of the presentation of such petition shall be given to the defendant or defendants, and to all parties whose interest appears on the record. Such petition shall be heard by a judge or such court sitting without a jury; or may, by rule adopted by such court, be referred to a master for hearing and determination subject to confirmation by the court: Provided, That the fee of any such master shall in no case exceed one hundred dollars; nor the costs of any proceedings before a master, the sum of fifty dollars.

At all such hearings, any party in interest may introduce in evidence testimony of the fair value of the premises sold at the time of the sale. In the event that the fair value so determined is greater than the price for which the property was sold, the amount of such fair value shall be deducted from the amount of the judgment, interest and costs, and a deficiency judgment entered for the balance.

If the plaintiff or use plaintiff shall fail to present such petition within six months after such sale, the prothonotary shall, upon application of the defendant or other party in interest, enter satisfaction of such judgment. Such satisfaction shall have the effect of terminating as well the liability of all persons bound by any obligation securing the payment of such mortgage debt.

The defendant in the foreclosure proceedings or judgment or the real owner of the property sold, or any other person or persons bound by any obligation securing the payment of the said mortgage debt, or other person in interest may, at any time after the sale, petition the court in like manner to fix the fair value of the property sold, and shall give to the plaintiff and use plaintiff at least ten days' notice of the presentation of such petition, whereupon the court shall determine the fair value in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of a petition by the plaintiff or use plaintiff.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, whether, if the bill is amended and lies over for printing, there will be enough time to pass it in the House?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if these amendments are adopted and the bill lies over or if it is passed tomorrow, there will be sufficient time.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, has the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, any assurance that that will be done?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have the assurance of persons who should know.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

HOUSE MESSAGE

SUITABLE EMPLOYMENT FOR PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED PERSONS TO BE CONSIDERED.

The Clerk of the House or Representatives being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Judiciary General:

In the House of Representatives, December 4, 1933.

Urging that a suitable part of public employment be given to physically handicapped persons.

Whereas, The employment of crippled and other physically handicapped persons in tasks which they are competent to perform is in accord with a wise social economy and was so recognized by the State of Pennsylvania in 1919 when it led other States of the Union in establishing a Division for the Vocational rehabilitation and placement of Disabled Persons and

Whereas, In recent years the tendency to discriminate against the employment of physically handicapped persons has been increasing as a result of certain general industrial policies rather than diminishing as a social good requires and

Whereas, A greater recognition of the physically handicapped in public employment would be beneficial both as an equitable course in itself and as setting an example for private industry and business.

Now Therefore Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania the Senate concurring that the appointing authorities in every State Department and in every county, city and town be urged to give consideration to the suitable employment of crippled and other physically handicapped persons to the end that a fair proportion shall be represented in public employment and that all rules and policies in conflict therewith be revised.

RESOLUTIONS

URGING ADOPTION OF CONGRESS OF RECOMMENDATIONS OF INTERSTATE COMMISSION ON CONFLICTING TAXATION

Mr. PHILIP STERLING offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1933.

Whereas, There is grave danger that the anticipated benefits of repeal will be destroyed by unrestrained and competitive taxation of alcoholic beverages by the federal government and by the governments of the states, counties and cities, and

Whereas, The imposition by the federal government of taxes or other imposts on alcoholic beverages without regard to similar burdens imposed by the states, counties and cities may result in a combined load of taxation so heavy as to encourage illicit traffic in those beverages, and

Whereas, Before federal prohibition the states, counties and cities depended on liquor taxes and license fees for a substantial proportion of their tax revenues, thus lightening the load of taxation on real property, and

Whereas, If liquor taxes are again to carry a reasonable share of the state and local tax burden, it is essential that the taxation of alcoholic beverages by the federal government be not excessive, and

Whereas, There is graves danger that unless immediate action is taken by the states, counties and cities in establishing a line of communication with the federal government through such bodies as the Interstate Assembly and the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation, the opportunity to secure a fair division of liquor tax revenues will be lost; Now, Therefore, Be it resolved that Congress be urged to adopt the recommendations formulated by the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation at a meeting in Washington, D. C., November 10-11, 1933, and ratified by the Interstate Assembly, which provide that, of the combined gross revenues from the liquor traffic derived by the federal and state governments from all sources, one-half should inure to the benefit of the states and their localities and the remaining half should be retained by the federal government.

Be It Further Resolved, That the President of the United States be respectfully urged and requested to approve any bill embodying the principles of the above recommendations in order that the provisions thereof may become effective at an early date; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a certified copy of this Joint Resolution be sent to the President of the United States, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to each of the members of the Congressional Delegation of this state.

DEMANDING MOTOR AGENCIES BE GIVEN PERMISSION TO BID

Mr. NOTHNAGLE offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1933.

Whereas, The Ford Motor Company is one of the important industries of the State as the following statistics show:

(a) It paid out in wages at its Chester plant alone, $2,394,000 during the year 1933 not including the month of December;

(b) It pays a capital stock tax to the State of approximately $8.500 a year;

(c) It pays a real estate tax to local government in excess of $75,000 a year;

(d) It pays taxes on liquid fuels of about $30,000 a year;

(e) It employs, directly at the present time, approximately 3,000 persons in this State;

(f) It has 500 authorized dealers in the State employing approximately 3,000 employes;

(g) It purchases parts and supplies from 240 different manufacturers in this State; and

Whereas, The Ford Motor Company has complied fully with the National Recovery Act, as is best evidenced by the recent purchases of its products by agencies of the Federal Government; and

Whereas, The agencies representing the Ford Motor Company have recently been unable to do any business with the Commonwealth, not by reason of inability to meet specifications contained in requests for bids, but for the reason that makes of cars have been specified, and the products of the Ford Motor Company have seemingly been discriminated against by being omitted from said specifications, although the Ford Motor Company products come in the same class as, and in direct competition with, those set forth in the specifications; and

Whereas, The Ford Motor Company is the only industry which maintains and operates plants in this State for the production of certain types of motor vehicles; and

Whereas, The establishment of industry in this State should at all times be encouraged and supported, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the demand of the members of the General Assembly that agencies of the Ford Motor Company should be permitted to become bidders on motor equipment in this State when bids are requested for types of equipments similar to those manufactured by said company, to the end that Pennsylvania industry may be aided and encouraged.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Governor, the purchasing agent of the Commonwealth, i. e., the Department of Property and Supplies and to the Department of Highways by the Acting Chief Clerk of the House.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for for concurrence.

URGING COOPERATION IN FEDERAL CIVIL WORKS ADMINISTRATION SURVEYS

Mr. PHILIP STERLING offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1933.

Whereas, In the planning of future unemployment relief activities, public works programs, and other projects relating to the welfare of the citizens of Pennsylvania, it is of vital importance to obtain information and statistics regarding the extent of unemployment; and

Whereas, The Federal Civil Works Administration of Pennsylvania has indicated its approval of a State-wide unemployment census for the dual purpose of obtaining information and providing work for the unemployed; and

Whereas, The Federal Civil Works Administration has indicated its willingnes to finance such surveys from Federal Civil Works Administration funds;

Therefore, Be It Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the sense of the General Assembly that if the making of such survey is financed by the Federal Civil Works Administration, the people of the State should co-operate to the fullest extent to make such surveys or studies complete and accurate; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Governor of the Commonwealth be requested to issue a proclamation calling upon all citizens to afford to the persons making such surveys or studies all information which may be requested.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

LIMITING LIQUOR LICENSES IN DRY TERRITORY

Mr. STEVENSON offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1933.

Whereas, In many political subdivisions of the State, the electors, at the municipal election in the year 1933, voted against the grant of beverage licenses; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Act, as adopted, fails to prohibit the grant of liquor licenses in territory where the electors voted dry at the municipal election in 1933, under the beverage license law; and

Whereas, It conclusively follows that where the electors of a political subdivision voted against the grant of licenses to sell malt beverages, they are also opposed to the grant of licenses to sell spirits and wine; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Act fails to vest in the Liquor Control Board the absolute discretion to refuse to grant liquor licenses in particular territory until the electors have voted against such grant under said act, but vests discretion to refuse licenses for the reason that the applicant is not reputable or the place not a proper one; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the sense of the General Assembly that all persons should refrain from applying for the grant of liquor licenses in territory where the electors at the election in 1933, voted against the grant of malt beverage licenses, and that where applications for licenses are so filed, that the Liquor Control Board should thoroughly investigate the person applying for the license and the place proposed to be licensed, and should not in any case grant such a license unless it is clearly of the opinion that under all the facts and circumstances it has no discretion whatever to refuse the license.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Liquor Control Board by the acting Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

EXTENDING SYMPATHY ON DEATH OF HONORABLE JOSEPH C. RUPP

Mr. MARCKS offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1933.

Sincerity of purpose, honesty, justice and truth were the guiding stars of Honorable Joseph C. Rupp, who departed this life on the fourteenth day of December, 1933, at the age of 85 years, 8 months and 25 days.

Honorable Joseph C. Rupp was born and reared in Upper Macungie Township in the County of Lehigh. He was educated in the common schools and graduated from the Keystone State Normal School, at Kutztown with the class of 1871. He taught school for a number of years. He was a man of talents in the political field, being elected to the office of Recorder of Deeds in 1883. In 1893 he was elected a member of the House of Representatives, in which capacity he served one term; and now

Whereas, The community where he lived has lost a sincere and loyal friend and worker, and

Whereas, His death has brought deep sorrow to all whose pleasure it was to know him, especially to his family and near kin and to those who recognized his learning, ability, and integrity, therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives extend to his family its deep and sincere sympathy, and be it further

Resolved, That this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that a copy be forwarded to the bereaved family, attested by the Speaker of the House and the Chief Clerk.

RESOLUTION No. 10

Mr. JOHN J. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 10, Printer's No. 56.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 4, 1933.

Urging That a Suitable Part of Public Employment Be Given To Physically Handicapped Persons

Whereas The employment of crippled and other physically handicapped persons in tasks which they are competent to perform is in accord with a wise social economy and was so recognized by the State of Pennsylvania in 1919 when it led other States of the Union in establishming a Division for the Vocational rehabilitation and placement of Disabled Persons and

Whereas In recent years the tendency to discriminate against the employment of physically handicapped persons has been increasing as a result of certain general industrial policies rather than diminishing as a social good requires and

Whereas A greater recognition of the physically handicapped in public employment would be beneficial both as an equitable course in itself and as setting an example for private industry and business

Now Therefore Be It Resolved By the the House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania the Senate concurring that the appointing authorities in every State department and in every county city and town be urged to give consideration to the suitable employment of crippled and other physically handicapped persons to the end that a fair proportion shall be represented in public employment and that all rules and policies in conflict therewith be revised Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE PHILADELPHIA HOSPITAL FOR MENTAL DISEASES

Mr. MALINA offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules.

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1933.

Whereas, It has been reported in the public press that there is a serious condition existing at the Philadelphia Hospital for Mental Diseases, commonly known as Byberry, and

Whereas, It has also been reported that patients are being shamefully abused and mistreated in that institution, and

Whereas, The Commonwealth should rightfully administer an institution of this type, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That a committee of three members of the House appointed by the Speaker, and two members of the Senate appointed by the President pro tempore, be empowered to investigate conditions at said hospital and report back, February 1, to the 1935 Session of the General Assembly its findings resulting from such an investigation, together with the recommendations of the advisability of the taking over by the Commonwealth of the management of this institution, and be it

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That the members of such commissions shall be reimbursed for amounts actually expended for railroad fare and hotel accommodations, and shall have the power to appoint and fix the compensation of necessary stenographers, payments for which expenses and compensation shall be made out of an item to be inserted in an amendment to the General Appropriation Bill of 1933.

URGING INCREASED APPROPRIATION TO MOTOR PATROL

Mr. WAY offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules.

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1933.

Whereas, The rapid improvement of the highways of the Commonwealth and the greatly increased traffic thereon has resulted in a deplorable number of accidents and a consequent loss of life and property; and

Whereas, This loss to the Commonwealth could be made less by a more thorough and continuous supervision of traffic on the highways by the Motor Patrol which within its means has in the past prevented many accidents and afforded valuable aid to those injured in collisions; and

Whereas, Many members of the Motor Patrol have been assigned to tasks other than those for which they were originally intended, thereby reducing the number available for patrol duty on the highways; and

Whereas, The necessary thorough and continuous patroling of the highways by these capable employes of the Commonwealth can only be secured by increasing the number of men to be assigned to this duty; and

Whereas, The unprecedented increase in mileage of improved highways during the past few years makes necessary such an increase, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the opinion of this General Assembly that consideration should be given by His Excellency, the Governor, during the next budget period to allowing a substantial increase in the appropriation to be made by the Commonwealth for this purpose to the end that a sufficient number of men can be assigned for patroling the highways in order to prevent accidents and the loss of life and property attendant thereon, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be handed to the Governor of the Commonwealth as the recommendation of the General Assembly.

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 132, as follows:

An Act concerning executions providing for an upset price and the effect thereof and for determining the amount of deficiency judgments and defining the rights and liabilities of holders of subsequent liens and of persons jointly or severally liable

Whereas Experience has shown that under the present system of judicial sales property is sacrificed at prices far below its intrinsic worth resulting in the deprivation thereof by its owner and its owner remaining liable on excessively large unsatisfied and deficiency judgments and

Whereas This works a hardship upon our populous because the competition of judicial sales forces down the realizable values of real and personal properties even at free sales therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever after the effective date of this act any writ of execution is issued against any real and/or personal property on any judgment or on foreclosure of a mortgage the execution creditor shall give notice thereof to subsequent liens and all persons against whom he might intend to seek to impose personal liability primarily or secondarily for the obligation towards the satisfaction of which execution issues Such writ and the notice thereof shall set forth the value of the and/or personal property sought to be sold upon execution

Upon the issuance of such writ and before the return day thereof the defendant in execution any other persons who are subject to liability upon the pricipal obligation or any lienees subsequent to the execution creditor may petition the court to set the fair value of the property as the "upset" price which must be procured upon sale before confirmation thereof will be granted Such petition shall contain an affidavit of the petitioner as to the value of the property against which execution is sought to be issued as well as the affidavits of two disinterested persons who are familiar with the values of such property and the locality where the sale of similar personal property was had and/or personal property to be sold that in their several opinions the fair market value of the same as stated in said petition is not greater than the true market value thereof

The substance of the prayer of such petition shall be that the fair market value of the real and/or personal property so sold shall be determined and that the court will refuse to confirm such sale unless

(1) Where the judgment plus interest and costs on execution exceeds fair value

(a) Such fair market value is realized upon sale or

(b) The judgment creditor agrees to credit the judgment plus interest and costs with such fair market value or

(2) Where the fair market value exceeds judgment plus interest and costs

(a) The purchaser upon execution is content to take the property subject to a lien in an amount equal to the excess of the fair market value over the judgment in execution and the judgment creditor agrees that execution shall be a full satisfaction of the judgment plus interest and costs or

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 135, as follows:

An Act relating to past executions providing for the entry of deficiency judgments and limiting the amount collectible thereafter

Whereas the serious public emergency affects and threatens the welfare comfort and safety of the people of this Commonwealth which emergency is resultant from the abnormal disruptions in economic and financial processes the abnormal credit and currency situation in the State and Nation the abnormal deflation of real property values and the curtainment of incomes by unemployment and other adverse conditions

Whereas many honest prudent and worthy property owners are having their property foreclosed or sold upon execution in these hard stringent and depressed times when their real and personal property is being bought in at foreclosure and execution sales in many instances by the mortgagee lienee or judgment creditor for an unconscionably low price

Whereas the unconscionable price procured at such public sales usually leaves the debtors liable upon deficiency judgments for the unpaid balances of the mortgages or liens held against their property and/or leaves them liable upon judgments remaining unsatisfied in whole or in part solely because of the inadequate price secured upon execution and such continued indebtedness harass and embarrass honest worthy people by burdening them with unconscionable judgments and subjecting their acquired properties to execution therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever any property real or personal has heretofore been sold to the plaintiff in execution or foreclosure proceedings and the price for which such property has been sold was not sufficient to satisfy the amount of the judgment interest and costs and the plaintiff seeks to secure or enforce by the issuance of execution thereon a deficiency judgment or the original judgment or obligation to the extent that execution has not resulted in its satisfaction the defendant in such proceedings whether he be the principal obligor a secondary obligor or a joint obligor if he believes that the price for which such property sold was less than the fair market value of such property at the time of sale may present to the court in which such proceedings are instituted a petition Such petition shall set forth the amount of such judgment or obligation and the costs thereon and on the said execution or executons or foreclosure and shall also set forth the real and/or personal property sold on such execution or foreclosure with a statement of the fair market value thereof on the day of such sale And if such property be realty such petition shall also state the assessment thereof Such petition shall be accompanied by the affidavit of two disinterested persons who are familiar with the values of such property in the locality where the sale of the personal property was had and/or in the locality where the real estate is situate and are familiar with the real and/or personal property sold that in their several opinions the fair market value of the same as stated in said petition is not greater than the true market value thereof

The substance of the prayer of such petition shall be that the fair market value of the real and/or personal property so sold is the value stipulated as the fair market value in the petition and that the securing of a deficiency judgment or the enforcement of a deficiency judgment already granted or the enforcement of the original judgment or obligation to the extent it has remained unsatisfied by the prior execution against the principal obligor joint obligor or secondary obligor shall be limited to the difference between such judgment or obligation plus interest and costs and the fair market value as set forth in the petition of the real and/or personal property sold but that if such fair market value is contested then the court shall have the fair market value established and that the securing of a deficiency judgment or the enforcement of a deficiency judgment already granted or the enforcement of the original judgment or obligation to the extent that it has remained unsatisfied by the prior execution against the principal obligor joint obligor or secondary obligor shall be limited to the difference between such judgment or obligation plus interest and costs and the fair value of the real and/or personal property as determined by the court

Section 2 Upon such petition the court shall grant a rule on the plaintiff or plaintiffs returnable not less than ten nor more than twenty days thereafter to show cause why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted If so answer is filed to such rule on or before the return day thereof the rule shall be made absolute

Section 3 If the plaintiff is not satisfied with the value of the property as set forth in the petition he may file an answer to such rule If such answer properly raises the issue as to the value of the property sold the court shall appoint three viewers from among the county board of viewers The viewers so appointed after giving at least five days' notice of the time and place of hearing to the plaintiff or plaintiffs and the petitioner or petitioners shall hear the evidence produced by or on behalf of both parties and shall determine such fair market value as of the date of the sale and such viewers shall file their report and a record of the evidence submitted on such return day as the court may fix which return day the court must fix within thirty days after the plaintiff's answer

Section 4 Forthwith on the filing of such report by the viewers the prothonotary shall give notice by mail to the plaintiff or plaintiffs and the petitioner or petitioners and within but not after fifteen days after such notice is mailed either party may appeal to the court by which the viewers were appointed and there have the action of the viewers reviewed and/or revised by the court sitting without a jury upon a consideration anly of that evidence which is in the record of the proceedings before the viewers Except that upon demand of either party and his payment therefor the review shall be before a court sitting with a jury Such reviews shall be made as expeditiously as possible and the court shall give the same precedence over any other business

Fifteen days after the filing of the report of the viewers or in cases of appeals after the review and/or revision of the action of the viewers the court shall decree that the plaintiff be granted a deficiency judgment or the power of enforcement of the original judgment or obligation only to the extent that the judgment or obligation plus interest and costs exceeds the fair market valuation so determined There shall be no further appeal from the decree of the court appointing the viewers as to the determination of the fair value

Section 5 After the petitioner's petition has been filed and until final decree of the court has been entered no alias or other writ of execution to sell any other property real or personal shall issue except for the balance of the original judgment or obligation plus interest and costs after deducting the amount of the value of the property already sold as set forth in the petition

After the decree has been entered establishing the deficiency judgments or defining the limits of enforcement of unsatisfied judgments already granted to the extent of their excess over the fair value of the property sold upon a prior execution any appropriate writ of execution may issue thereon for the amount so determined

If the fair value established by the decree is at least equal to the judgment or obligation plus interest and costs the court shall further decree that the obligation is satisfied and that no further executions shall issue thereon against any person primarily or secondarily liable upon such obligation

Section 6 Where any obligor has suffered a judgment or a lien to be acquired to secure the payment of a debt for money or property procured by false representation fraud or defalcation that obligor shall in no case be permitted to plead that the property sold at less than its actual valuation upon the prior execution but any sale fairly made under such execution issued thereon shall be conclusively presumed to have been made for the actual value of such property sold However this shall not preclude such a plea for the crediting of the judgment or obligation with the fair value of property sold in execution by any other persons liable jointly or secondarily upon the obligation who have not been party to the fraud

Section 7 If any section part or provision of this act shall be declared unconstitutional or invalid or ineffective by any court of competent jurisdiction such declaration shall be limited to the section part or provision directly involved in the controversy in which such declaration was made and shall not affect any other section provision or part hereof inasmuch as it is declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional section part or provision not been included therein

Section 8 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 9 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

MODIFICATION OF CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION.

Mr. EDERER offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1933.

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Act provides for the appointment of employes of the Pennsylvania Liquor Stores pursuant to civil service examinations to be conducted by the Department of Public Instruction in order to determine the qualifications of applicants for such service, which qualifications are by said act expressly required to be "such as will best permit the efficient operation and management of such stores"; and

Whereas, In the first examinations held under said act for the position of truck drivers, the examinations have been intellectual rather than practical, requiring educational knowledge far beyond the necessity of a truck driver, and neglecting the really important qualifications for this work: therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the House of Representatives, that in the examination of applicants for the position of truck drivers for the Pennsylvania Liquor Stores, that all questions requiring educational learning be eliminated, and that such examinations be limited to inquiries as to the number of years of experience in truck driving which the applicant has had, an accurate, truthful and detailed statement of all vehicle accidents in which the applicant has been involved, the general personal experience of the applicant, and a knowledge of the essential requirements of the law in reference to the operation of motor vehicles.

Resolved, That the Acting Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives transmit a copy of this resolution to the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and to the Department of Public Instruction.

PRAYER

The Acting Chaplain, Rev. Oscar R. Treder, offered the following prayer:

O Sovereign Lord God, Heavenly Father, we adore Thy goodness in making Thy will known to us in Thy Holy Word. May this, Thy Word, be the rule of our law, of our desires and of our lives. May we ever sacrifice our will to Thine, be pleased with all Thy choices for ourselves and others, and adore Thy providence in the government of the world.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE CONCURS IN RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE GOVERNOR TO APPOINT DIRECTORS AND TRUSTEES OF ANY NON-PROFIT CORPORATION APPLYING TO FEDERAL AGENCY FOR EMERGENCY LOAN.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution of the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, December 18, 1933.

Whereas, Under Act of Congress of the United States known as the National Industrial Recovery Act the sum of $3,300,000,000 has been appropriated for the purpose of Public Works allotted to the various States as they may be approved by the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works upon proper application filed, and

Whereas, Corporations have been formed and are to be formed for enabling projects for public and quasi-public purposes in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to qualify for receiving loans and grants under said act of Congress and,

Whereas, In order to obtain loans and grants for such projects, it is necessary that the corporations thus formed be under public control and to insure the same provisions are made that a majority of the directors and trustees of said corporations shall be appointed by the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Resolved by the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (if the House of Representatives concur) that the Governor of the Commonwealth is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint such number of directors and trustees as is necessary to constitute a majority of the Board of Directors of any non-profit corporation formed for public purposes applying to the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works, or other Federal agency, for a loan and grant for projects erected in this Commonwealth under the terms of the National Industrial Recovery Act so that said corporations may be under public control for public benefit and to enable them to meet the requirements of the said act.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO LIQUOR CONTROL

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Law and Order:

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1933.

Whereas, In many political subdivisions of the State, the electors, at the municipal election in the year 1933, voted against the grant of beverage licenses; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Act, as adopted, fails to prohibit the grant of liquor licenses in territory where the electors voted dry at the municipal election in 1933, under the beverage license law; and

Whereas, It conclusively follows that where the electors of a political subdivision voted against the grant of licenses to sell malt beverages, they are also opposed to the grant of licenses to sell spirits and wine; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Act fails to vest in the Liquor Control Board the absolute discretion to refuse to grant liquor licenses in particular territory until the electors have voted against such grant under said act, but vests discretion to refuse licenses for the reason that the applicant is not reputable or the place not a proper one; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the sense of the General Assembly that all persons should refrain from applying for the grant of liquor licenses in territory where the electors at the election in 1933, voted against the grant of malt beverage licenses, and that where applications for licenses are so filed, that the Liquor Control Board should thoroughly investigate the person applying for the license and the place proposed to be licensed, and should not in any case grant such a license unless it is clearly of the opinion that under all the facts and circumstances it has no discretion whatever to refuse the license.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Liquor Control Board by the acting Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

RESOLUTION RELATING TO UNEMPLOYMENT CENSUS

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Judiciary General:

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1933.

Whereas, In the planning of future unemployment relief activities, public works programs, and other projects relating to the welfare of the citizens of Pennsylvania, it is of vital importance to obtain information and statistics regarding the extent of unemployment; and

Whereas, The Federal Civil Works Administration of Pennsylvania has indicated its approval of a State-wide unemployment census for the dual purpose of obtaining information and providing work for the unemployed; and

Whereas, the Federal Civil Works Administration has indicated its willingness to finance such surveys from Federal Civil Works Administration funds;

Therefore, Be It Resolved (if the Senate concur), that it is the sense of the General Assembly that if the making of such survey is financed by the Federal Civil Works Administration, the people of the State should co-operate to the fullest extent to make such surveys or studies complete and accurate; and

Be It Further Resovled, That the Governor of the Commonwealth be requested to issue a proclamtion calling upon all citizens to afford to the persons making such surveys or studies all information which may be requested.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO BIDDING ON MOTOR VEHICLES

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1933.

Whereas, The Ford Motor Company is one of the important industries of the State as the following statistics show:

(a) It paid out in wages at its Chester plant alone, $2,394,000 during the year 1933 not including the month of December;

(b) It pays a capital stock tax to the State of approximately $8,500 a year;

(c) It pays a real estate tax to local government in excess of $75,000 a year;

(d) It pays taxes on liquid fuels of about $30,000 a year;

(e) It employs, directly at the present time, approximately 3,000 persons in this State;

(f) It has 500 authorized dealers in the State employing approximately 3,000 employes;

(g) It purchases parts and supplies from 240 different manufacturers in this State; and

Whereas, The Ford Motor Company has complied fully with the National Industrial Recovery Act, as is best evidenced by the recent purchases of its products by agencies of the Federal Government; and

Whereas, The agencies representing the Ford Motor Company have recently been unable to do any business with the Commonwealth, not by reason of inability to meet specifications contained in requests for bids, but for the reason that makes of cars have been specified, and the products of the Ford Motor Company have seemingly been discriminated against by being omitted from said specifications, although the Ford Motor Company products come in the same class as, and in direct competition with, those set forth in the specifications; and

Whereas, The Ford Motor Company is the only industry which maintains and operates plants in this State for the production of certain types of motor vehicles: and

Whereas, The establishment of industry in this State should at all times be encouraged and supported, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the demand of the members of the General Assembly that agencies of the Ford Motor Company should be permitted to become bidders on motor equipment in this State when bids are requested for types of equipments similar to those manufactured by said company, to the end that Pennsylvania industry may be aided and encouraged.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Governor, the purchasing agent of the Commonwealth i. e., the Department of Property and Supplies and to the Department of Highways by the Acting Chief Clerk of the House.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO LIQUOR TAX REVENUE

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Finance:

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1933.

Whereas, There is grave danger, that the anticipated benefits of repeal will be destroyed by unrestrained and competitive taxation of alcoholic beverages by the Federal Government and by the government of the states, counties and cities, and

Whereas, The imposition by the Federal Government of taxes or other imports on alcoholic beverages without regard to similar burdens imposed by the states, counties and cities may result in a combined load of taxation so heavy as to encourage illicit traffic in these beverages, and

Whereas, Before Federal prohibition the states, counties and cities depended on liquor taxes and license fees for a substantial proportion of their tax revenues, thus lightening the load of taxation on real property, and

Whereas, If liquor taxes are again to carry a reasonable share of the State and local tax burden, it is essential that the taxation of alcoholic beverages by the Federal Government be not excessive, and

Whereas, There is grave danger that unless immediate action is taken by the states, counties and cities in establishing a line of communication with the Federal Government through such bodies as the Interstate Assembly and the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation, the opportunity to secure a fair division of liquor tax revenues will be lost;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, that Congress be urged to adopt the recommendation formulated by the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation at a meeting in Washington, D. C., November 10-11, 1933, and ratified by the Interstate Assembly, which provide that, of the combined gross revenues from the liquor traffic derived by the Federal and State Governments from all sources, one-half should inure to the benefit of the states and their localities and the remaining half should be retained by the Federal Government.

Be It Further Resolved, That the President of the United States be respectfully urged and requested to approve any bill embodying the principles of the above recommendations in order that the provisions thereof may become effective at an early date; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a certified copy of this Joint Resolution be sent to the President of the United States, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to each of the members of the Congressional Delegation of this State.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO UNEMPLOYMENT CENSUS

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Judiciary General:

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1933.

Whereas, In a planning of future unemployment relief activities, public works programs, and other projects relating to the welfare of the citizens of Pennsylvania, it is of vital importance to obtain information and statistics regarding the extent of unemployment; and

Therefore, Be It Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the sense of the General Assembly that if the making of such survey is financed by the Federal Civil Works Administration, the people of the State should co-operate to the fullest extent to make such surveys or studies complete and accurate; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Governor of the Commonwealth be requested to issue a proclamation calling upon all citizens to afford to the persons making such surveys or studies all information which may be requested

The foregoing is a true and correst copy of the resolution adopted by the House of Representatives, the eighteenth day of December, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, and concurred in by the Senate, the day of December, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three.

SENATE BILL No. 55 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 55, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation of moneys in the Motor License Fund to the Department of Public Instruction, and providing for the repayment of such moneys from the General Fund.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amnedments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21, which requires amended bills to be noted on the calendar, be in this case dispensed with, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the foregoing bill.

Mr. FAY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

"Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment"

On the question,

SUITABLE EMPLOYMENT FOR PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED PERSONS TO BE CONSIDERED.

In the House of Representatives, December 4, 1933.

Urging that a suitable part of public employment be given to physically handicapped persons.

Whereas, The employment of crippled and other physically handicapped persons in tasks which they are competent to perform is in accord with a wise social economy and was so recognized by the State of Pennsylvania in 1919 when it led other States of the Union in establishing a Division for the Vocational rehabilitation and placement of Disabled Persons and

Whereas, In recent years the tendency to discriminate against the employment of physically handicapped persons has been increasing as a result of certain general industrial policies rather than diminishing as a social good requires and

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to call attention to the fact that Section 1506, Clause D, page 38, contains an amendment by striking out the words "other than a bank, a bank and trust company or a trust company"; and, read in the light of its present wording, this provision would give the right to any bank, being a creditor of another bank, to go into the District Court of the United States, if there were a diversity of citizenship, or any State court, and ask that it be appointed receiver for that particular bank.

That would demoralize the whole system of the State Department of Banking in its handling of closed banks.

This bill also carries a certain provision which is very important to banks in Pennsylvania. That provision applies to banks generally, and I am quite sure, from my discussion with the Attorney General's office, that if the bill goes through with that provision in the bill would have to be vetoed, because it would have destroyed the construction set up by the Department of Banking for the liquidation of banks.

I do not know of a single bank in the State of Pennsylvania that is in favor of this proposition. There has been much discussion to permit one bank to liquidate another corporation not a bank, and originally this bill contained such a provision; and I now desire to amend this bill by striking out the brackets, thus restoring the bill to its original form.

Mr. PRESIDENT, I ask unanimous consent to amend page 12, line 29, by striking out after the word "act" and before the word "for" the word "section"; also Section 1506, Clause D, page 38, line 14, by striking out the bracket before the word "other" and line 15 by striking out the bracket after the word "company."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULES 37 AND 42, AND TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Mr. HARRIS. Mr .President, There is now in the Committee on Railroads a bill commonly known as the "Full Crew Bill." I am aware of the fact that the rules of this body prohibit debate on any bill on a motion to suspend the rules; I am merely identifying this bill so that each and every member will know just exactly what he is voting on.

Mr. President, I, therefore, move that Rule 37 and Rule 42 be suspended, and that Senate Bill No. 161 (House Bill No. 160), entitled: "An Act to promote the safety of employes and travelers upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to man locomotives trains and other self propelled engines or machines with competent employes to provide the least number of men that may be employed on locomotive trains and other self propelled engines or machines to provide the qualification of certain employes and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof" shall be immediately placed on the calendar for first reading; and I ask that the roll be called on this vote.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the motion made by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, is a double-barreled motion. In the first place, it seeks to suspend Rule 37 and Rule 42, which is a motion in itself. It also seeks to discharge the Committee on Railroads from further consideration of this bill.

My point of order is that this motion is out of order unless it is divided into two motions.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, is well taken.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, there is no motion to do both of these things at the same time. The purpose of this motion is to suspend the rules. The motion to discharge the committee will be predicated on whether this motion to suspend the rules is adopted. We are merely voting now on the motion to suspend the rules.

Mr. PRESIDENT, if there is any confusion on this, it can be easily worked out. I will withdraw that portion of the motion which provides for the discharge of the committee, and confine it to one thing—the suspending of the rules.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I shall be pleased to be interrogated.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask "Governor" Harris if these rules are sought to be suspended by reason of the fact that under these rules "No bill shall be considered unless referred to a committee, returned therefrom, and printed for the use of the members," and No committee shall be discharged from the consideration of a bill within five days of its reference, without unanimous consent of the Senate."

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I answer the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, seriously, by saying that is the purpose.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, is it not a matter of fact that this bill has not been in the hands of the committee twenty-four hours?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that is correct.

The PRESIDENT. The motion before the Senate now is for the suspension of Rules 37 and 42.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of information.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of information.

Mr. SHAPIRO, Mr. President, is it the fact that this committee cannot be discharged from the consideration of this bill unless Rules 37 and 42 are suspended?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the original motion made by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, should be divided; and the sponsor agrees that it shall be divided.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I say this respectfully,—my inquiry is still not answered. I asked if it is absolutely necessary to suspend these rules in order that we may vote on the discharge of the committee. In other words, is it the ruling of the Chair that the motion to discharge the committee cannot be made unless these rules are suspended?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, I do not like the idea of voting to discharge the committee, and I suggest that we take a recess of twenty minutes and allow the committee to meet and either bring the bill in as an affirmative bill or as a negative bill; and I understand that will give the committee the chance, if it has had the bill only twenty-four hours. I would like to amend that motion, to take a recess of fifteen minutes, in order to have the committee meet.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I accept the amendment.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I accept the amendment.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, this is not a motion to discharge the committee; it is a motion to suspend the rules.

The PRESIDENT. The question now before the Senate is the amendment by Mr. Einstein, accepted by the maker of the motion, Mr. Harris, that the Senate recess for fifteen minutes.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I am willing to postpone action on the motion which I presented on condition that this meeting is held,—with the full understanding that upon our return to this room the motion will be resumed.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I ask that the vote be taken on the motion made by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. The question before the Senate at this time is the amendment made by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Einstein, accepted by the maker of the motion, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, and the second, Mr. Miller, that the Senate recess for fifteen minutes.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, and that a conference be held.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, agrees to lay his motion on the table, and to take up the amendment of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Einstein.

The question before the Senate is this: That the Senate recess for fifteen minutes.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I call up my motion.

The PRESIDENT. The question is on the motion to suspend Rules 37 and 42. The motion was originally seconded by the Senator from Northumberland, Mr. Miller.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Harris and Mr. Miller and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—17.

Armstrong,	Harris,	Pethick,	Staudenmeier,
Baumer,	Lanius,	Reed,	Thompson,
Bennett,	Mansfield,	Roberts,	Trainer,
Brandt,	Miller,	Snyder,	Williamson,
Einstein,

Buckman,	Gelder,	Pierson,	Sones,
Chapman,	Graff,	Prince,	Sordoni,

So the question was determined in the negative.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George F. Conner, offered the following prayer:

O Spirit Divine, lover of the souls of men, we seek thy blessing upon our lives and our work; bear witness with our spirits, now, that we are children of the living God: in spite of our weaknesses, ambitions, and conceits so common to human kind, help us to remember that we are ambassadors of the King of Glory, and representatives of a great people. May our spirits be atuned to thy spirit, that we may be conscious of our two-fold mission on Capitol Hill. Those who have ears to hear, are conscious of deep rumblings, as of a river in flood, may we not foolishly suppose that these the mere rumblings of empty stomachs, but help us to know that the souls of men are astir, and will be quieted only by master statesmanship, may these Legislators know thy will for the Commonwealth and prepare the way for its accomplishment. In the Master's name. Amen.

STATEMENT BY MR. CORDIER

Mr. CORDIER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, House Bill No. 10 known as the liquor control bill passed and is now on the statute books. Under section 302 of this act there is a provision with respect to examinations for the selection of personnel which reads as follows: "Such competitive examinations shall be practical in character and as far as may be possible shall relate to those matters which will fairly test the relative capacity and fitness of the persons examined to perform the duties of the service to which they seek to be appointed. To my mind that means simply that such examinations shall only contain questions pertaining to the duties the applicant will perform if successful. I raise my voice at this time against what I believe to be a discriminatory and entirely too rigid line of questions and regulations such as was required of applicants for liquor jobs in the tests held last Saturday. I believe if private industry were to require of individuals who seek employment with them that they pass such tests before securing a position we would have unemployed college professors as janitors and truckmen and only those possessing the qualities of an Einstein could qualify as a clerk or store manager. I realize that those who are in charge of these examinations desired to set up a certain standard of intelligence. I further realize that it would be inadvisable to have every applicant get 100% in the tests, and I do not wish these remarks to be construed as an attack on any individual. I am protesting against the whole system of qualifications and questioning which I believe does not establish in a practical way the fitness of the applicants. My sympathy goes out to those thousands who took the test for the jobs in the lower brackets such as truck driver. I could understand the look of bewilderment on their faces when such questions as these faced them. Write this expression in its simplest form, -30y x (c-6y); If v = h r 3n write the formula for h; What is a rose; Find the volume of a tank 10 feet long and 4 feet in diameter (a fair question perhaps to ask a plumber)

How many rolls of paper are required to paper a room; and then given a few seconds to write and spell correctly words they never heard of and which have no bearing on the safe and efficient driving of a truck. Such as how the rheostat and seismograph will aid aeronautics.

The knave and the phrenologist meet in the penitentiary. I don't know why the poor phrenologist was picked on unless perhaps if the word politician were substituted it would be too hazy for the average citizen to spell. I have heard of the applicant for a Government civil service position as mail carrier who was asked the question "How near is the sun to the moon" and he answered, "not near enough to interfere with my duties as a mail carrier." Too much knowledge sometimes is as dangerous as too little.

Many thousands of men, honest men, and useful citizens have been driving trucks safely over our highways for many years who could not qualify under these tests. I wonder how many political appointees on Capitol Hill and throughout the Commonwealth could get a passing average if subjected to such tests. I'll go farther and ask how many department heads or members of the General Assembly could. Many persons were forbidden from even taking the examinations through rigid regulation and hair line decisions whom I believe well fitted. My attention has been called to the case of several. One applicant applying for store manager was an accredited high school graduate and for 12 years managed one of the largest department stores in the community in which he lived. He was rejected for insufficient experience and I am informed another who lived in Pennsylvania all his life was rejected for not living in the state long enough. I know personally of the case of one who applied for supervisor or assistant supervisor. Nothing on his application denoted that he should only apply for one specific position. His application showed him to be qualified for both. He received his rejection on the grounds that he applied for more than one job. He drove one hundred and fifty miles in his automobile to Harrisburg to denote the particular job he would apply for, and in plenty time, before the examination was held. He got nowhere with the department in his efforts for the rightful consideration due him.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 19, 1933.

Robt. J. Cordier, Esq.,
Scranton, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I made application for store manager and received the enclosed notice. I wish you would get my application which was rejected and return same to me. I will take same to the Governor's office and show how inconsistent they were.

Yours truly,

(Sgd) Geo. W. Davis.

105 W. Market Street.

In many sections of the State the members of the General Assembly are being blamed by those who think the qualifications and examination were too rigid, when the truth is we had nothing to do with it. The cry of politics is being raised. This is not a condemnation of those who have conducted this examination. It is offered as a protest in the hope that the present rules and regulations be toned down so that the average citizen of this Commonwealth who is eager and ready to compete for these positions will at least be able to approach them without any humiliation and discouragement and without any discrimination.
